Biggest Parade Ever Set For the Fire Department's Bicentennial Celebration

What is being billed as the biggest, grandest parade Princeton has ever seen is set for Saturday, when the Princeton Fire Department celebrates its Bicentennial. The parade will close Nassau Street from 11:15 a.m. to about 3:30 p.m. Traffic will be detoured.

It was on February 11, 1788, that the citizens of Princeton met at the Sign of the College (Nassau Inn) and formed their own fire company. By 1800, they had put together a complement of one engine, three axes, and 35 leather buckets on poles.

Today, there are five engines, one ladder truck, one mini-pumper, ten thousand feet of hose, 20 axes, and

"No New Sidewalks by Labor Day," Says Mayor; Concern Over Contractor's Designs Causing Delay

Putting in new sidewalks on Nassau Street by Labor Day will probably not be possible, said Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund, who had announced the Labor Day completion date in a press conference in February.

She and several members of Council spent most of Monday with Fellows, Read, the West Windsor firm selected by Council last month to design the Nassau Street sidewalks, benches, plantings, flower containers, and trash receptacles. Although the Mayor and members of the Public Works Committee were not pleased with the initial designs presented by Fellows, Read two weeks ago, the Mayor nonetheless said it was clear that the firm wanted to respond to concerns. "After my meeting with Fellows, Read today, I think we will be able to have a good working relationship," she said.

Whatever her concerns were, they made for a lively half hour at last Thursday night's Council meeting. Council President Marvin Reed had told the governing body that the Mayor — who was not present because she had a sore throat — asked that there not be a vote that night on the Fellows, Read contract. Councilman Mark Freda, a member of the Public Works Committee, said he strenuously objected to anything that would delay the project any further.

Township Considering an Innovative Concept To Preserve Remaining 'Special' Properties

Requiring clustered residential development in pre-mapped areas of some of the remaining "special" properties in the Township is under consideration as a means of preserving the historic, environmental or aesthetic qualities of those properties.

Professional Planner Duggan Kimball outlined the concept of mandatory clustering to Township Committee in work session last Monday. Mr. Kimball said the concept was innovative and to his knowledge had not been used in another community. He also described it as "very simple," but requiring a lot of planning and pre-mapping homework.

Essentially, mandatory clustering means that any development on certain tracts would have to be clustered — conventional lot development would not be allowed. Moreover, the clustered layout would have to leave undeveloped as open space predetermined portions of the tract that have historic, environmental or aesthetic characteristics that should be preserved.

Mr. Kimball said that no reduction in the current density is presently proposed. Rather, the idea is to let the developer know from the outset just which areas of a tract may or may not be developed, using objective, pre-mapped environmental or historic features as the criteria.

In this respect, the concept goes against what Mr. Kimball calls the current market forces, which often lead a developer to locate housing units so that they are enhanced in value by the very features — streams, woods, views, proximity to historic structures — which the community might wish to have preserved from development.

To introduce Committee to the concept, Mr. Kimball reminded members of the list of "critical" properties which the Planning Board had designated last November as deserving preservation from development. Nine properties, starting with the 20 acres of the Textile Research Institute lands by Lake Carnegie and the 82-acre Tusculum property — John Witherspoon's farmstead while he was president of the College of New Jersey — were recommended for acquisition or preservation.

Knowing that the Township would not be able to acquire all nine properties, the Planning Board then set out to see how best to preserve those aspects of each tract which were deemed to be special and worthy of preservation, Mr. Kimball said.

Is a Run for N.J. Governor In Mayor Sigmund's Future? She's Testing the Waters

Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund has confirmed that she is testing the waters for a possible run for Governor of New Jersey next year. She plans to make her decision by the end of the summer.

If things go her way, and she does enter the race, she said she would not quit her job as Borough Mayor, a post to which she was re-elected in November. "If Mike Dukakis can run for President and run the State of Massachusetts, surely we can run the Borough — with a little help from our friends," she said, as she pointed to Borough Clerk Penney Edwards-Carter.

Governor Thomas Kean's second term expires in January, 1990. By law, New Jersey governors may not run for a third term. This barring of a popular governor's bid for re-election opens the field wide for both Republican and Democratic hopefuls.

The process involved five steps, he told Committee. The first was to define the criteria for choosing mandatory cluster sites. The Planning Board's master plan subcommittee endorsed a set of criteria prepared by Mr. Kimball and planning consultants Wallace Robert and Todd. Sites must have access to sewers, be at least 10 acres in size and largely undeveloped, and have some substantial environmental concern, historic significance or other community value.

Thirty-eight potential sites were identified and mapped by WRT to show the location of their special qualities or features. These were then evaluated and ranked, using the mapping. From them 16 were chosen as having the "most substantial environmental, historic or other community value," in Mr. Kimball's words.

The map given to Township Committee members lists seven sites that are recommended for acquisition "in preference to further development" in ranked order. All were on the list of "critical" sites developed last fall.

The top three, the Textile Research Institute, Tusculum and the Institute for Advanced Study, are also designated for mandatory clustering if they are not acquired. Other sites which the Planning Board is recommending for acquisition are an eight-acre piece of the DeMenil tract; the floodplain portion of property belonging to William Sword Jr. off The Great Road; property belonging to Elizabethtown Water Company off West Drive, and property belonging to Bryce Thompson along River Road.

In addition to three properties recommended for mandatory clustering if they are not acquired, there are eight other properties which the Planning Board is suggesting for mandatory clustering. They are the Labatut property on Snowden Lane; property belonging to Nassau Builders off Herrontown Road; All Saints' Church property now designated as Green Acres; the historic Gulick property between Princeton-Kingsland Road and Herrontown Road;

Also the David McAlpin property off the North Road; the Wiant property straddling The Great Road; the former Cadle property surrounding Princeton Day School; and the Gerard B. Lambe property off Province Line Road.

Development Pending. In view of the fact that Tusculum and the Labatut property are currently on the market, and thus subject to development, the Planning Board is asking Township Committee to proceed with ordinance mandating the cluster concept "in a timely fashion." Mr. Kimball envisions the ordinance to be accomplished by means of "overlay zoning" similar to the historic preservation ordinance.

The underlying development rights would not be altered in terms of permitted use and the total number of dwellings that could be developed. The ordinance would, however, require development to be concentrated into the areas not designated as needing to be preserved.

Committee's reaction to the concept was both hesitant and intrigued. Committeewoman Phyllis Marchand asked what could be done to improve the attractiveness of clustered housing, which in her view often fails because large houses are placed on small lots. Mr. Kimball acknowledged that clustering "has a bad name," and that the proposed measure is "not an ideal solution."

He said that the cluster option in the present ordinance has not succeeded in producing smaller housing types as was hoped, nor has it led to large areas of "meaningful" open space being left undeveloped. The proposed ordinance would mandate that at least 50 percent of the gross site area be set aside as preserved open space. More importantly, in his view, pre-mapping would dictate where this open space should be — rather than the market desires of the developer.

Acknowledging that the Township would not be able to acquire all the sites it might wish to preserve, Mayor Kate Litvack remarked that "half a loaf is better than none," and suggested that mandatory clustering is "a worthwhile approach." She also suggested to Mr. Kimball and to Attorney Edwin Schmierer that the present ordinance be revised so that developers can not count areas such as flood plains — which cannot be built upon anyway — when arriving at the mandated open space in a cluster development.

Chief: "We're Satisfied"
With 1987 Crime Report

"We feel crime was down from the previous year. We feel satisfied with the whole year," commented Chief Jack Petrone last week, in releasing his first year-end report covering crime and traffic in the Township for 1987. Much of the report, he pointed out, reflects the final year of Chief Anthony Pinelli, who retired midway through the year.

For the major, uniform crime categories of homicide, rape, robbery, burglary, theft, auto theft and arson, there were three noticeable changes. The number of auto thefts rose 88 percent, to 15 from 9, thefts were down 13.4 percent to 207 from 239, and burglaries increased 17.3 percent to 176 from 150.

All 176 burglaries, interestingly, occurred at residences. The previous year there were 113 of homes and 37 of businesses. The 176 in 1987 are more than double the 80 reported two years ago in 1985. Included in the thefts are 21 shopliftings, 65 from motor vehicles (an increase of 11) and 49 from buildings — a decrease of eight.

In 1987 there were no homicides, no cases of arson, one rape, one robbery. In 1986 there were two rapes, two robberies and one homicide. The number of assaults, (aggravated and simple) remained the same, at 60.

All these major crime categories are reported each month to the New Jersey State Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to determine an increase or decrease in crime across the nation.

Increases recorded in 1987 included acts of criminal mischief to 103 from 92, sex (not rape) to nine from four, liquor laws to 12 from seven, a three-

The Decline of Drunken Driving

Whether it's because public awareness of the penalties and fines for driving while intoxicated has increased or because Township police were not able to participate in as many DWI road checks as they would have liked to because of manpower constraints — or a combination of both — there has been a marked decline during the past five years in drunken driving in the Township.

The number of drivers arrested for drunk driving has declined 69.2% to 16 in 1987 from 52 in 1983. The number of Princeton residents arrested has declined 72.7% to six from 22. Neither of the two traffic fatalities in 1987 in the Township — at Stuart and The Great Road and the Washington Road Bridge — involved drinking. There has not been a traffic death as a result of drinking in the Township since 1984.

The figures below tell the story.

	'83	'84	'85	'86	'87
Number Arrested for DWI	52	33	31	28	16
Male	38	29	25	22	15
Female	14	4	6	6	1
Involved in Accident	15	13	5	7	6
Injuries	11	9	6	3	8
Deaths	1	1	—	—	—

fold increase in suicides or attempts to 13 from four, and a sharp rise in weapons charges to seven from zero in 1986. Among the decreases: forgery-counterfeit-fraud down to 25 from 39, narcotics to four from 11, and sudden deaths to seven from 14.

In all the total number of offenses for 1987 was 855 compared to 822 the previous year, a four percent increase.

Juvenile Arrests Up 42%. The number of adults arrested in 1987 in the Township dropped 20 percent, to 154 from 194, while juvenile arrests rose 42 percent to 135 from 95.

Adults were arrested most frequently for assault (20), DWI (16), theft (15) narcotics (14) and liquor laws (13); juveniles for liquor laws (35), runaways (24) and criminal mischief (17).

Township police in 1987 logged a total number of 12,835 calls, including 6,853 that required police action or an inquiry and 2,518 ending in aid to citizens. Police received 1,956 alarm signals, 481 animal calls and 390 ambulance calls.

Last year, 535 persons called police for assistance to enter their cars or homes, after they had locked themselves out or forgotten their keys. All time-consuming for the police, noted Chief Petrone.

Even more time-consuming to police were the 1,956 burglar and fire alarms activated in homes, businesses and schools in the Township in 1987, an increase of 459 over the previous year. When each alarm call comes in, two police officers are dispatched to check it out.

Notes Chief Petrone: "As in previous years, signals proved to be false alarms with only two actual burglaries." On 902 occasions when police went to investigate, there was no evidence of any criminal activity or fire and the owner was not at home or in the building. On 740 occasions, almost twice as many times as in 1986, police responded to an alarm to find no evidence of any crime or fire but the owner on the premises and the alarm not cancelled.

"A great deal of manpower wasted," wrote Chief Petrone. "The police department feels the number of false alarms is too high. We are not attempting to discourage the use of alarm systems, only attempting to have subscribers use systems in a responsible manner."

Frequent violators are fined under a Township alarm ordinance. After the 11 false alarm the system is shut off at Township headquarters.

Accident Profile. Township police investigated 573 motor vehicle accidents in 1987, an increase of 14 percent over 1986's 503. There were 100 accidents involving collisions with deer, a decrease of seven.

There were two auto deaths, both from two-car accidents.

Fiber, an important part of any diet, is found in fresh fruits and vegetables and whole grains. Because it absorbs water in the large intestine, fiber promotes faster transit times of food through the digestive tract. It has actually been shown in some cases to lower blood cholesterol levels.

The Diet Center program provides plenty of fiber from the above-mentioned foods. Diet Center has always believed that eating a fiber-rich diet starts by selecting foods that come in "Nature's Wrapper" and by avoiding foods that are highly processed and refined.

Ground Breaking Planned For Sewer Trunk Work

The Sewer Operating Committee will hold a ground breaking ceremony Thursday, May 26, at 11 to mark the start of construction on the sewer trunk line replacement.

The ceremony will be held on the southeast side of Princeton-Kingston Road, opposite Shady Brook Lane, near the boat house. The event will be attended by municipal and other officials, and the public is invited.

Replacement of about seven miles of defective sewer trunk is the most important phase of the current project to rehabilitate the leaky Princeton sewer system. Rehabilitation has been under way in various forms since 1976, and is expected to be completed, except for ongoing maintenance, in October 1990. The total cost of the present efforts, including trunk line replacement and other repairs to the system, is about $12 million.

The ground breaking ceremony is to mark the start of replacement of a portion of the eastern trunk. This trunk serves a large part of the center of the Borough as well as the eastern side of the Township. The part to be replaced runs from Harrison Street near Hamilton Avenue alongside Harry's Brook to Poe Road. Turning south near Poe, it follows the Princeton-Kingston Road to River Road and then to the pumping station feeding the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority treatment plant.

The cost of replacement of the eastern trunk is about $3.6 million. Cruz Construction Corporation of Holmdel was the successful bidder. Construction is expected to be completed about April 1, 1989.

The Sewer Operating Committee also intends to replace a portion of the western trunk as part of the total rehabilitation project. The part to be replaced runs from Valley Road along Mountain Brook and Stony Brook, through the Institute for Advanced Study woods, to lower Alexander Street. It

Garden's License Renewed

At last Thursday's meeting of Borough Council, all members of Council who were present voted to renew the Sameric Corporation's license to operate the Garden Theater. By order of Council the preceding week, the theater had been closed all day Wednesday and Thursday for a clean-up.

The vote to renew the license came nearly four months to the day after the Princeton Regional Health Department found evidence of a mouse infestation in a storage room. The room had a number of other violations and failed to meet fire and sanitary inspection standards.

Early last month, Council barred the Garden from selling food in the theater because the food storage area had not been sufficiently renovated and there was persistent evidence of litter and rodent infestation. Along with its Thursday vote to renew the license, Council also returned to the Garden the right to sell food.

In a written report to Mayor and Council, Health Inspector Drew Scalessa said his inspection on Thursday afternoon had shown that the new food storage facilities at the Garden were excellent, and the establishment was very clean and sanitary. "There is no evidence of any rodent infestation," he assured the governing body.

Mr. Scalessa also wrote that, from a Department of Health point of view, the public can safely attend the Garden Theater and utilize its food concession.

License renewal is granted by Council on a one-year basis.

serves parts of the Borough and most of the western Township. Advertisements requesting bids for this part of the project will be placed in June.

The rehabilitation project also consists of repair and replacement of broken and leaking pipes in the collector system — some 100 miles of

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1988
TOWN TOPICS, PRINCETON, N.J. pipe which feed the trunks. This repair began in 1976 and will continue without interruption until 1990.

The Sewer Operating Committee is a joint "meeting" of the Township, Borough and Princeton University. Consisting of six people, two appointed by each of the three members, the SOC was established in 1932 to operate the Princeton sewer system and treatment facility. Until 1980 the SOC operated a sewerage treatment plant on River Road which was supplanted by the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority Plant.

Overnight Parking Ban Proposed On Alexander

Residents and business owners have petitioned Township Committee to ban parking on Alexander Street Mondays through Fridays from 2 to 6 a.m.

According to Paul Oliver of 212 Alexander Street, spokesman for the group at Monday night's Township Committee meeting, students and commuters are taking up space that should be available for business. Mr. Oliver told Committee that the alternate side overnight parking ban that was instituted a year ago as a compromise measure in response to similar complaints "doesn't work."

He said that it was difficult for employees to park, let alone customers, and that the fire hydrants and the driveways to businesses were often blocked by parked cars and even by a tractor trailer that had been parked overnight. "We want immediate action to this invasion of overnight parked vehicles," Mr. Oliver said.

Licut. Mario Musso of the Township Police Department agreed that there was a problem and attributed it in part to students avoiding paying the $90 fee for the Princeton University lot.

Joe Boyd told Committee, "No redblooded university student is going to want to pay $90 when he can park for free on the Township street." A freshman at Forbes College told Committee that it was a 20-minute walk to the student parking lot, so he tells his

Township Road Repair

As summer, the time for road repair and resurfacing, approaches, Township residents can expect major reconstruction work on two main arteries and oil-and-chip surface treatment to a host of other streets.

Cherry Hill Road will undergo major reconstruction and resurfacing from Foulet Drive to Bouvant Drive. Part of the cost for this project will be reimbursed with monies required of the developer of the Princeton Ridge Development for off-site improvements.

Ewing Street and North Harrison Street from the Borough line to Route 206 will also be repaired and resurfaced, as will the Great Road from the Great Road West to Winfield Drive.

Oil-and-chip resurfacing, designed to repair minor surface heaves and cracks and prevent further disintegration of the road surface, will be applied to Gallup Road, Stetson Way, Talbot Lane, Cuyler Road, Rollingmead, Morgan Place, Westerly Road, Hunt Drive, Winfield Road, Gulick Road, Herrontown Circle, Autumn Hill Road, Drakes Corner Road, Greenhouse Drive, Laurel Road, the first 1500 feet of Fairway Drive, The Great Road from the Princeton Day School Drive to Great Road East, and the short section of Stuart Road between the The Great Road and Great Road East.

was also a discussion of how far along Alexander Street the ban should extend, and whether daytime restrictions, or perhaps a decal system, should be instituted as well

Guy Fasanella of Andy's Tavern advocated taking one step at a time, beginning with the overnight parking ban on both sides of the street. Committee instructed Attorney Edwin Schmierer to draw up the appropriate ordinance banning parking from the Dinky parking lot exit to the Canal. Committee felt that limiting the ban to north of the traffic light could push the problem further along the street.

Bridge Repair Possible Says Preliminary Report

Repair of the Harry's Brook Bridge "can be accomplished," according to a preliminary report of the engineers commissioned by Township Committee to investigate the feasibility of repair versus replacement.

Moreover, the firm's estimate for rehabilitation of the bridge with structural improvements to the stone walls, should that prove necessary, is $300,000 less than the Department of Transportation's recent estimate of $1.6 million to replace the bridge. Equally good news, to Township Committee, which discussed Weidlinger Associates' preliminary cost estimate at its meeting last Monday night, was the fact that the firm thinks the repair work could be accomplished by closing one lane during the day. However, the firm also says that if the state requires it, a temporary one-lane trestle bridge could be put up on the west side of the roadway.

The firm provided cost estimates for two alternatives, "repair in kind," which would involve reconstruction in stages of the subgrade and then of the stone walls; and "rehabilitation with structural improvement" if it is found that the stone walls require greater stability than is available with existing wall thickness. This can be accomplished, the firm suggests, by widening the base of the existing wall and will require some foundation work.

If this is done, the shoulder may be widened by two feet on both sides. "Repair in kind" would not alter the present dimensions of the bridge, except to raise the parapets somewhat for greater safety.

Two Estimates. "Repair in kind" would cost $880,000, including $560,000 for roadway work and $320,000 for stone work, according to the estimate. Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser described this to Committee as "fortifying the existing structure, replacing stones as necessary and eliminating the listing parapets."

Rehabilitation with structural improvement would come to $1,150,000, including $580,000 for roadway work, $160,000 for a new stone foundation, and $410,000 for stone work. The cost of putting up and removing a one-lane steel and wood trestle bridge if the state requires it is put at $180,000.

That puts the "rehabilitation" total at $1.3 million or $300,000 less than the DOT's $1.6 million estimate to replace the bridge and put up and remove the diversionary bypass required during construction. The bridge would be widened slightly under the "rehabilitation" scenario.

Committeeman Tom Poole said it would be "irresponsible" not to widen the bridge, which presently has no sidewalk and almost non-existent shoulders. He pointed out that traffic can not cross the bridge at the same time pedestrians or bicyclists are attempting to cross it and asked what provisions would be made for pedestrians and bicyclists.

Mayor Kate Litvack said a pre-fabricated pedestrian DISCOVERED: After two centuries of anonymity, this giant white oak, 70 feet tall and 100 feet across, has been declared to have been in existence at the time of the Battle of Princeton. It has been dubbed The Washington Oak by Calton Homes, developer of the property on which it stands, and was formally dedicated as such at a ceremony last week. Located off Route 206 in a hedgerow dividing two fields, it is on the portion of the property which is to be dedicated to the state or the Township as the historic "overlook" site from which the British caught a glimpse of George Washington's troops.

bridge alongside the vehicular bridge was being considered and would cost about $50,000. Mayor Litvack said the consulting engineer had been asked to provide a preliminary cost estimate to see how it compared with the DOT's estimate before completing the feasibility study. She asked for, and received, Committee's approval to authorize the rest of the study, specifically in regard to what the weight limit of the repaired bridge would be.

Sister City Designation. In other business, Committee designated the Township a Sister City to Granada, Nicaragua. The action follows one taken by the Borough in late March and comes before a delegation of Granada officials, including the mayor, are expected to arrive in Princeton for a visit this weekend.

Committee also approved a resolution requested by Princeton Community Housing which describes the steps taken thus far toward achieving the Griggs Farm housing project.

Committee also authorized the Township attorney to make an offer to a property owner whose land is needed as the location of the pumping station for the new north Princeton sewer system. That system, when complete, will serve the Griggs Farm development as well as the Princeton Ridge development.

Snow Plow to Oscilloscope In Week's Theft Report

A snow plow and an oscilloscope were among the items reported stolen last week by Borough police.

The hydraulic snow plow, harness and frame, valued at approximately $800, were removed during the weekend from a Chevrolet Blazer owned by the Borough. The vehicle had been parked outside the municipal garage on Harrison Street behind the Hook & Ladder building.

The $500 oscilloscope and two multimeters, valued at $150 each, were stolen between April 19 and May 4 from a room in the Engineering Quadrangle building on the University campus. There was no forced entry and police report that numerous students and employees have access to the room.

Flowers and cash are always nice. A 2'-by- 5' carton of lilac flowers, valued at $90 and left outside the Flower Market, off Witherspoon Street, was stolen between 7 and 7:30 Friday night, and a Levittown, Pa., resident lost $530 early Friday morning at the Marita's Cantina Restaurant, 138 Nassau Street.

The victim told police she was at the bar with some friends when she left to go to a restroom, leaving her jacket on the back of her chair. When she returned ten minutes later, $530 was missing from one of the pockets. Police say they did receive some information from her friends and they are questioning some people.

There were, as in almost every week, a number of campus thefts.

A student left his dorm room in Pyne Hall unlocked Monday afternoon and when he returned he discovered that $140 had been removed from his wallet which he had left on top of his desk. Also missing: his $100 Seiko watch. A female student reported the theft of her wallet containing $50 from her purse which she had left Saturday on a chair in an unlocked study room in Green Hall.

Another coed listed the theft Thursday afternoon of her Schwinn Super Sport, 10-speed bicycle from the 6th entry of Cuyler Hall. The $280 bike had been locked to a bike rack.

A student left his gym bag hanging overnight on a coat hook on the wall of the Student Center where he is employed. When he returned Saturday afternoon, he discovered his wallet was missing from the bag. All the thief got was a $5 wallet; there was no cash inside.

Still another student victim who left his jacket in a first-floor coatroom in Wu Hall lost his wallet (worth $5) and $3 cash. A Prospect Avenue resident left her diaper bag overnight in a coat room in Stevenson Hall, 83 Prospect. When it was stolen, the victim lost infant clothing and various child care items worth a combined $95.

Shortly after 3 Thursday morning, a student parked his 1979 Honda behind Tiger Inn and left the motor running. Inside, police said, were miscellaneous items valued at approximately $850. Yes, it was stolen, but was also recovered the same morning at 4:40, undamaged, in the University Store lot. All the items inside were intact.

Season ticket rates are $110 for a resident family, $50 for a resident adult, and $30 for a resident child. Resident senior citizens age 60 and up pay $25. Residents may also gain entrance to the pool by paying a daily admission rate, which is $1.50 per day for children under 16 and $4 per day for adults.

Three Men Are Charged For Alcohol, Marijuana

Three young men from Lawrenceville and Trenton have been charged by Borough Ptl. Curtis Vanchoff with alcohol and drug violations.

Lawrenceville residents Todd Leatherman, 22, of Allen Lane, and Eric Veale, 21, of West Long Drive, have each been charged with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia and providing alcoholic beverage to a minor. Keith Herzstein, 20, of Trenton, has been charged with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia and possession of alcohol by a minor. All three are scheduled to appear next Wednesday in Borough court.

The three were first observed in their car in the Park Place lot around 10:30 Thursday evening by police on patrol.

When the occupants saw the patrol car, they allegedly acted in a suspicious manner and seemed eager to get out of the car and leave the area. After the occupants had left, police checked the car and noticed a small quantity of marijuana in a plastic bag on the front seat.

The officers, Ptl. Vanchoff, Sgt. William Clark and Ptl. Robert Currier waited. Shortly after midnight the three returned and were approached by the officers.

Their investigation uncovered marijuana in the car, in Zinsmeister's possession. He had a 12-pack of Coors beer (some was later released after being bottles empty), a smoking pipe issued a summons calling for a device containing a burnl his appearance May 18 in Borough court.

Driver Faces Four Charges. Following an incident April 29, police have charged the driver of a Ford Bronco, Dana Nini, 29, of Walnut Lane, with Tell-Tale Smoke. As Det. James Agins was walking on South Tulane Street Saturday night in plain clothes, he saw a man walking toward him smoking a hand-rolled cigarette. As they passed, the man exhaled a puff of smoke.

Recognizing the smell of marijuana, Det. Agins stopped the suspect, examined his cigarette and determined it was a marijuana roach. He placed the suspect, David Zinsmeister, 26, of Berrien Avenue, Princeton Junction, under arrest.

At police headquarters, police also found additional marijuana in a small film cannister in Zinsmeister's possession. He had a 12-pack of Coors beer (some was later released after being bottles empty), a smoking pipe issued a summons calling for a device containing a burnl his appearance May 18 in Borough court.

As the officers approached to investigate, the driver made a quick attempt to leave the scene. Police stopped the vehicle and approached the driver. They allegedly detected an odor of alcohol on the driver's breath and saw signs of intoxication.

According to Capt. Thomas Michaud, as the officers were interviewing him, Nini suddenly bolted, with Det. Terracciano in pursuit. When apprehended, Nini took a swing at Det. Terracciano, police said, before he was subdued and arrested. He was the only person charged.

Capt. Michaud reported that a small amount of another substance found in the vehicle has been sent to a police laboratory for analysis.

Coed Charges Another Student with Harassment

A 19-year-old Princeton University student has signed a complaint charging another University student with simple assault and harassment.

The suspect, Antonio M. Vernon, 22, faces a fine of up to $500 on the assault charge when he appears June 13 in Township court.

According to police, the victim was helping at the Special Olympics in Palmer Stadium on Saturday, when Vernon allegedly came over and sat next to her and untied her shoelace. The victim got up and walked away but Vernon followed her and then grabbed her on the ankle and right arm and wrist and would not let go.

Another person, police said, came to the victim's assistance and she managed to break away.

She later came to Township police headquarters and signed a complaint against Vernon, whom, she told police, she did not know. Lt. Mario Musso said that the victim was able to identify Vernon through a school yearbook.

Two Students Charged. Two Princeton University students, Jonathan Blazer, 20, and Matthew Kovac, 20, both of Blair Hall, have been charged by police with possession of alcohol by a minor.

They were observed Friday night walking on Nassau Street near Witherspoon Street, each carrying a case of beer, by Ptl. Robert Currier, who was in a patrol car. Because neither appeared to be 21, the officer stopped and questioned them. Each admitted to being under age.

Police confiscated the beer and later released the students, a list of people.

Was a Crime Committed? Shortly before 8 Sunday evening, a Graduate School student was walking on Prospect Avenue near the Tiger Inn when she saw a student urinating in some bushes. She approached and informed him that she was offended by the act.

Words were exchanged and the graduate student reported the incident to police who have identified the student involved. Awards for distinguished

The case is still under investigation, said Capt. Thomas Michaud this week. As yet, no charges have been made. "We're trying to get as much information as we can," he said. "Charges have to be specific as to intent. Was there any indecent exposure involved?"

Prof. Kripke's work spans the disciplines of philosophical reasoning and abstract mathematical theory. A pioneer in the areas of modal logic, philosophy of language and ontology, he has extended the boundaries of modern analytical theory. A child prodigy in mathematics, Dr. Kripke published his first article in the Journal of Symbolic Logic when he was 18. He earned a bachelor of arts degree at Harvard in 1962, remained at Harvard as a junior fellow for the next six years and joined Rockefeller University in 1968.

A visiting faculty member at Princeton intermittently since 1965, he was a professor at Rockefeller University from 1973 until 1977, when that university abolished its philosophy program. That same year, he was appointed to the Princeton faculty as McCosh Professor of Philosophy.

Taken from a locked '88 Honda was $5 in quarters. Again, the victim told police the car had been locked.

In another theft during the weekend, a Meadowbrook Drive resident lost $290 and credit cards when a thief stole a wallet left lying on the seat.

The theft was discovered at 5 Saturday morning. The car was not locked, police said.

Princeton, N.J. WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1988 • 14
nile delinquency after a store manager at Thrift Drugs in the Princeton Shopping Center on Saturday observed them placing items into a knapsack.

The youths took two Milton Bradley games, a model, a yo-yo and three paperback books worth $28.66. They were turned over to their parents to await processing by the juvenile officer.

On Friday, two 16-year-old Princeton Junction youths were taken into custody by police for shooting a BB pistol at cans and bottles in a stream that runs through Grover Park behind the Shopping Center. They were later released to an adult.

Lt. Mario Musso explained that a Township ordinance prohibits the discharge of any firearm within its boundaries, and a BB pistol is classified as a firearm.

One Club Officer Cleared In Court; Three Are Not

At a special hearing in Borough court last week, charges against the former president of the Cloister Inn were dismissed for lack of evidence, but Judge Russell W. Annich Jr. refused to drop charges against another club president and two other students. Another student agreed to plead guilty to a lesser charge of disturbing the peace, a misdemeanor, and will not face a prison sentence.

Cleared of the charge of serving alcohol to minors was Jay Weiss, 21, of Cloister Inn, one of the 13 eating clubs on Prospect Avenue that allegedly served alcohol to underage Princeton University students during sign-in night, February 6. Excessive drinking at initiation ceremonies left one student in critical condition from alcohol poisoning. Forty-five others required medical aid.

Requests by attorneys for dismissal of charges against Kenneth Simpler, 20, president of the Charter Club; Lisa Napolitano, 21, former social chairman of the Charter Club; and Kristin Seymour, 21, former social chairman of the Cloister Inn, were denied. A trial for these defendants and the Charter Club and Cloister Inn, which have been charged by police with maintaining a nuisance, is scheduled for next Wednesday, May 18, in Borough court. If convicted, the students could face a maximum of six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Following a lengthy pre-trial conference with Judge Annich and the students' attorneys, Assistant Borough Prosecutor Michael Barrett conceded the Borough did not have sufficient evidence to prosecute Mr. Weiss.

James Martin, 20, social chairman of the Cloister Inn, who accepted the plea bargain, admitted to limited participation in the purchase of alcohol served at the Inn during sign-in night. As part of the plea bargain arranged by his lawyer, he agreed to plead guilty on May 18 to disorderly conduct under the Borough's municipal code to escape a possible jail sentence.

Attorneys for the remaining three defendants refused to plea bargain with the prosecutor. They claimed their clients did not purchase or serve any alcohol during sign-in and were being charged unfairly by police because they were club officers.

24 Charges, $1,885 Fines, 70 Days Jail, Revocation

It was one of the longest lists of charges against one person ever to appear on the Borough Criminal Court calendar — seven criminal charges and 17 motor vehicle charges.

Fifteen of the charges against Percy Randall, whose current residence is the Mercer County Workhouse, were dropped at the request of the State. Still, the onetime Princeton resident ended up with 70 days in jail, $1,885 in fines, and three years and six months revocation of his license.

The criminal charges included two of theft, resisting arrest, assault, possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), possession of burglary tools, and CDS in a motor vehicle.

The motor vehicle charges included two of driving while his license was revoked, two for reckless driving, two for no insurance, and three improper passing. Also, driving while intoxicated, careless driving, red light, disregarding an officer's signal, stop sign, leaving the scene of an accident and no inspection.

The most severe penalty and fine was $1,015, 10 days in jail and six months revocation for his third offense of driving while his license was revoked. Randall lost his license for two more years for having a controlled dangerous substance in his car. He pleaded guilty to eight of the offenses.

In other cases, Edward Braverman, 42 Woodlane Road, Lawrenceville, was fined $115 and $30 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board on each of two bad check charges. In addition, he received a 30-day suspended sentence to the Workhouse and was ordered to make restitution.

Donald B. Colson, 184 John Street, was fined $65 and $30 VCCB for theft and an equal amount on a second charge of trespassing. Gerald Geffrard, 34 Witherspoon Street, was fined $65 and $30 VCCB by Judge Russell W. Annich Jr. on two separate charges of disorderly conduct. Two additional charges of assault were dismissed at the request of the State.

Lifeguards Needed for Pool

Summer weekends at Community Park Pool are in trouble.

The Recreation Department has been trying, without success, to fill four weekend lifeguard positions at Community Park pool and two weekend front office slots. According to Jack Roberts, assistant recreation director, 15 lifeguards are needed to guard the pool — seven for the weekdays, and eight for the weekends. Mr. Roberts says he has the seven weekday guards lined up and four of the eight needed for weekends.

By juggling these people around temporarily, he will be able to open the pool as scheduled, Saturday, May 28, and each of the next two weekends until the regular season begins June 13. However, the problem is compounded, Mr. Roberts says, by the fact that lifeguards nowadays tend to be high school, rather than college, students. School is not officially over until June 22, so that the first 10 days he will be short-staffed even on weekdays from noon, when the pool opens, until 3, when school gets out. He thinks he may have to close the diving well during those hours unless he can recruit more lifeguards.

Lifeguards must have advanced lifesaving, and knowledge of cardio-pulmonary resuscitation and first aid are a plus. Lifeguards are paid an average wage of $4.75 an hour, but a new person, with little experience can expect to earn somewhat less the first year.

Mr. Roberts also lacks two weekend front office people. Cash register experience and excellent communication skills are the requisites for these jobs. If interested, call him at 921-9480. Weekend Community Pool swimmers will be grateful.

operations will vie for that recognition when the second annual Mercer County Bed Race is held Friday near the Hyatt Regency-Princeton.

The event, sponsored by Budweiser, will feature four-person teams, all representing corporations, racing beds on wheels down a 100-yard stretch. Action begins at 5:30 in the Carnegie Center office park on the road adjacent to the Hyatt.

Teams can enter through April 29. The registration fee is $250 per team, and all proceeds benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association. For more information, call the MDA at 770-1225.

Bike Ride Scheduled To Benefit Diabetes Ass'n

Prizes, including the grand national prize of a seven-day cruise, will be awarded to winning participants of Bike Ride Plus, a benefit event for the Mercer County Chapter of the American Diabetes Association.

Bike Ride Plus, sponsored here by the Institute for Sports Medicine and Squibb/Novo, will be held next Saturday, May 21, from 9 to 1 at Mercer County Park. Participants will meet at the boat house beginning at 8:30.

There will be two bike routes: an in-the-park three-miler for children and adults and a long distance ride (25 or 50 miles) for the more experienced biker. Participants can obtain sponsors on a per-mile basis before the event.

Among the prizes are sweatband watches, bike gloves, am/fm clock radio phones, compact disc players and television sets. The top money-raiser will be entered in a national drawing for the grand national prize.

Following the ride, the Mercer Chapter of the American Diabetes Association will sponsor a "Celebration Party" at the park for all participants. Haagen-Dazs and Dominos Pizza, major sponsors of Bike Ride Plus, will provide the refreshments. To participate, or to make a donation, call the Mercer Chapter at (609) 585-5120.

from 10 to 5 each day, rain or shine.

Everyone is encouraged to bring a kite, or make or buy one at the farm, and join the Mount family in the 10-acre pasture flying kites. "This may be the only chance many people will ever have to fly a kite out with the sheep, goats, geese and all our farm animals," remarked Gary Mount, co-owner with his wife Pam of Terhune Orchards.

Kite Day will feature lots of food for lunch or snacks at Pam's "Chuck Wagon Express." In addition to apples and cider, there will be apple pies, barbecued chicken, hot dogs, cider doughnuts, and other items all day long.

In addition to the farm animals — Henrietta the donkey, Teddy the pony, the new lambs, chickens and roosters — a naturalist from Turtle Back Zoo will bring Kathleen O'Neill Jamieson of Princeton has been named director of admissions at Princeton Day School.

In 1985, Mr. Hynes created a new interdisciplinary course at Princeton, entitled "War in Literature and Art" in which he explores the ways in which war is represented in films, novels, poems, diaries and the visual arts.

The public is invited to the reading and to the reception.

Reading Is Scheduled By War Memoirs Author

Samuel Hynes, the Woodrow Wilson Professor of Literature at Princeton University, will read on Tuesday from his new and widely-acclaimed memoirs of World War II: Flights of Passage: Reflections of a World War II Aviator. The reading, sponsored by the Council of the Humanities, will take place in Betts Auditorium in the Architecture Building at 4:30 and will be followed by a reception.

Before writing these poignant memoirs of a young man's encounter with war — in flight training and later, on duty in the South Pacific — Hynes had published five scholarly books on English literature, including The Auden Generation, Edwardian Occasions and William Golding. In addition, he has edited 10 books, including the three-volume Complete Poetical Works of Thomas Hardy. His essays, articles and reviews have appeared in The New Republic, The Sewanee Review, Tri-Quarterly, Antaeus, The New York Times Book Review and

Readings Over Coffee
Readings Over Coffee with Herbert McAneny will take place Wednesday, May 18, at 10:30 at the Public Library.
Mr. McAneny will read two tales by master storytellers. Footfalls by Wilbur Daniel Steele tells how a blind man's sense of hearing makes up for his lack of sight. The Heyday of the Blood by Dorothy Canfield Fisher describes a youthful spirit triumphing over old age.

Tennis attendants are needed from July 1 through September 2 to monitor play at the Community Park tennis complex. Hours are flexible and no experience is necessary. Work is available during September and October as well.

Swim instructors are needed from June 11 to August 19 to teach swimming weekdays from 10:30 to 12:30. Advanced lifesaving and water safety instruction certification are needed.

The Recreation Department also needs a part-time secretary during the summer. A "people-oriented," well-organized person with experience in office procedure and good typing skills is sought.

Consolidation Is Planned By Area Bank Next Year

Horizon Bancorp, the parent company of Princeton Bank, is expected to complete its merger with Chemical Banking Corp. of New York next year. At that point, said a Horizon official, Princeton Bank will be combined with two other banks, both Horizon subsidiaries. These are Marine National Bank of Pleasantville and Horizon Bank in Morristown.

A new statewide bank, tentatively named Chemical Bank/New Jersey, is expected to be created as a result of the consolidation. Aristides W. Georgantas, president of Princeton Bank, will become president of the new bank. The combined bank will have $4 billion in assets.

The consolidation is expected to cut Horizon's staff of 2,800 by about 200 people, according to Eugenie Thelan, a Horizon spokeswoman. She added that none of Horizon Bancorp's 125 offices in the State is expected to be closed.

Aristides W. Georgantas, 56 Princeton Avenue, president of Princeton Bank, will become president of the new bank.

New Bank Due to Open In Palmer Square North

A new bank is scheduled to open at 47 Palmer Square North, the office building currently near completion in Palmer Square. The proposed Guaranty Bank of Princeton will be opened this summer by a Pennsylvania bank holding company, if its application for a bank charter is approved by the State next month.

William R. Dimeling, the new bank's chairman, said one of its specialties will be large loans to individuals for business purposes. "Most of our lending is to the earning affluent," he said.

two power saws. There are, however, no leather buckets on poles.

Since 1788, the Princeton Fire Department has been run by volunteers. It is these volunteers — present and past — whom the events on Saturday will honor.

A full day's activities are planned — rain or shine — beginning with the parade at 11:30. This will start at University Place and Nassau Street, continue down Nassau, turn left at Harrison Street, and conclude at Grover Park, behind the Princeton Shopping Center. The reviewing stand will be in front of Princeton Hook & Ladder, on North Harrison Street, Princeton's first fire company.

There will be food and entertainment at the park beginning at 1 p.m. Food vendors from about 17 area restaurants will be there, and the edibles will range from cotton candy to cheese steaks to gelato. Fifteen minutes of fireworks at about 8:15 p.m. will cap the proceedings.

Providing entertainment will be the Princeton High School Studio Band, Juggler Jerry Rowan, the Steve Luker Fire Safety Magic Show, the Skin and Bones and Company comedy act, and Creative Theatre.

The parade, to be led by Dr. Frank Field, honorary grand marshal, will feature more than 80 fire companies, first-aid squads, drum and bugle corps, and antique car clubs. Both antique and modern firefighting equipment will be on review.

The parade's three actual grand marshals have, among them, 169 years of service to the Department. They are Alex Duthie, a 50-year volunteer; Earl Wilbur, with 59 years of service, and James Pace, who has been a Princeton volunteer firefighter for six decades.

Among the companies scheduled to be in the parade are those from Pennington, Plainsboro, Montgomery, East Brunswick, Bay Head, Hamilton, Hightstown, Lawrence, Hopewell, and Little Rocky Hill.

Parking will be available at the back of the University fete fields in West Windsor. Access will be from the section of Harrison Street which must be reached from Route 1.

LET'S

AND CICADA

with Sam DeTuro

Woodwinds Associates

Boxelder bugs have been a problem throughout New Jersey during the past two years. This problem occurs when overwintering bugs seek shelter in homes, office buildings, schools and other dwellings. Even though this insect feeds on ash and maple trees, our major problems are associated with boxelder trees. There are several communities that planted boxelder trees 20 to 30 years ago. These trees are now mature and are significant features of the landscape. Even though property owners complain about boxelder bugs, they do not want to have the female trees removed. They would rather spray the trees or dwellings. Diazinon will give some control when applied to trees in August. You may use a household insecticide — or a large fly swatter may give some relief.

Broad X of the periodical cicada is due in 1987. Some individuals were collected this past Fall, so we know they are there and ready to go. We do not recommend chemical measures. The tree injury is a result of egg laying by female cicadas, and not due to feeding. Established trees can withstand a good deal of the "natural pruning" without adverse effects. I would suggest not planting trees this Spring in or near natural forested or park areas. Wait until fall so trees will have a chance to become established under less stressful conditions. Severely damaged key trees should be fertilized this fall.

For more information about tree and shrub care, call WOODWINDS at 924-3500. We are glad to be of service!

Roads Closed for Firemen's Parade

When 1200 marchers, 196 vehicles and 10 bands gather in town on Saturday to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the Princeton Fire Department, they are going to need traffic-free streets for their parade. Police will seal off access to Princeton for the estimated four to five hours it will take for the participants to march from University Place (starting at 11:30) down Nassau Street to Harrison Street, where they will turn left and head toward Grover Park for festivities and fireworks.

In the Township, Harrison Street will be closed from Franklin Avenue to Terhune Street. The south entrance and exit to Princeton Shopping Center will be closed; the only access will be via the north entrance opposite Valley Road. Access from Clearview and Franklin avenues to Harrison Street will be blocked off.

Those coming south from Kingston will find Route 27 (Nassau Street) closed at Snowden Lane. Alternate routes will direct traffic right on Snowden onto Van Dyke Road or left on Riverside Drive and right on Prospect Avenue for those heading toward Route 1 and the malls.

Washington Road will be blocked off at Faculty Road. Drivers coming into Princeton will either have to turn right onto Faculty to Harrison Street or left onto Faculty to Alexander Road.

In the Borough, Nassau Street will be closed to all traffic from Mercer Street to Snowden Lane and Riverside Drive.

Shuttle Bus. There will be a Special commemorative ticket continuous loop made by shuttle buses from about 10 a.m. until the end of the parade. cost is fifty cents per person. The loop will begin at the parking area on the fete grounds and continue on to Faculty Road, Alexander Road, Mercer Street, Nassau Street, Bayard Lane, Paul Robeson Place, Witherspoon Street, Valley Road, North Harrison Street, Route 206, Nassau Street, and back to the fields.

Parade Committee Chairman Mark Freda said delays and congestion should be expected, and advised people to plan shopping and errands early in the day, before the parade starts. Residents on streets along the parade route should plan to have their cars on other side streets during the parade.

Sigmund

One of these hopefuls is Democratic Congressman James Florio, who lost by a narrow margin to Governor Kean in the Governor's first election. "I want to check out the conventional wisdom that Congressman Florio has the nomination sewed up," said the Mayor.

She added that there are several factors that mitigate against her running. One is a real desire to write a book of political analysis with her sister, Cokie Roberts, a correspondent for National Public Radio.

Also, she said, "a candidacy now for higher office means a fulltime commitment of that person solely to that candidacy. The person has to become the object of his/her own affections. Spending full time on self-promotion is not exactly the way I want to spend my days and nights."

Her decision to make the try was spurred, she said, by a rush of spontaneous inquiries during the last month. These came from Princeton area business leaders, women leaders, and from some ("underline 'some,'" she said) Democratic Party leaders.

"In fairness to myself, my family, and my political supporters," said the Mayor, "I agreed to make a serious effort to explore the possibility of putting together a campaign organization, and setting a deadline of the end of summer for such an exploration, so any potential supporters aren't left there hanging."

An advocate of women running for office, Mayor Sigmund is placing a fair amount of her hopes on enlisting women's groups to back her candidacy. "I believe that women with credentials must start making real efforts toward gaining high office in this country if we are ever to achieve politically," she says.

To this end, Mayor Sigmund said that she, Department of Transportation Commissioner Hazel F. Gluck and State Senator Leanna Brown have been mutually encouraging each other's efforts toward higher office. Both Ms. Gluck and Ms. Brown are Republicans.

Mayor Sigmund has formed an exploratory committee to see if the two elements she deems critical are there for her: the possibility of a viable organization, and enough money to run this organization.

One attraction in the Governor's race, she says, is that matching funds are available, and there are limits to the amount that can be spent by a candidate. She added, however, that some members of the State Legislature want to increase these limits.

"I have just finished paying off a whopping debt for the Senate race, and I wouldn't put my family through it again," said the mayor, who was a candidate in the Democratic primary for U.S. Senate in 1982, an election won by Frank Lautenberg.

Mayor Sigmund reported that she has had a good response to news of her potential candidacy, but declined to be more specific at this point.

tract, on April 15. "If I was a contractor," said Mr. Freda, "and there was no approval tonight, I would have a sense of doubt."

At this point, Councilman John Huntoon called for a ten-minute recess. Mr. Huntoon and Councilpersons Reed and Trotman trooped from the Council room, Mr. Reed to confer on the phone with the Mayor. A few minutes later, Mr. Reed told Borough Attorney Michael Herbert that the Mayor had some "real questions about the contract." Mr. Herbert left the Council room to talk with her on the phone.

When everyone was back in their seats, the meeting continued. No explanation of Mayor Sigmund's concerns was offered, except for Mr. Herbert's statement that she had suggested that the vote on the contract be deferred.

While all this was going on, Councilman Rodney Fisk was making a determined effort to convince Council to award the contract for the Nassau Street sidewalks to Henry Arnold instead of to Fellows, Read. The Arnold firm had been considered by the Public Works Committee, but the Committee rejected its proposal, largely because no design was specified and it bore a price tag of approximately $900,000 — $300,000 more than had been budgeted.

Mr. Fisk said that his feelings, and those of representatives of the Arts Council, Planning Board, and Historic Preservation Committee, were that they are seriously considering going to another architect. "Every design recommendation Fellows, Read has given us has been rejected," he said. "We don't want the sidewalks to look like a driveway."

Mr. Freda reminded Mr. Fisk that Henry Arnold's proposal had come in at $300,000 more than Fellows, Read's. "The biggest name person doesn't always give you the best product," he said.

Mr. Fisk, who said the disparity in costs no longer applied because more expensive materials will probably be used, replied that continuing with Fellows, Read would produce "a sidewalk to banality."

Friends and Students of InnerTuning Therapy Systems, Inc., Princeton, extend their heartiest congratulations to Sri Shyam Bhatnagar on his investiture as honorary professor of Chakra Psychology, at the International University of Lugano, Switzerland.

Spring Stone Farm

New Listing

A gentleman's farm — seventeen beautiful acres provide a delightful retreat from this busy world and yet are but minutes from Princeton and about an hour from New York, in Hunterdon County. Picturesque white fencing lines the long drive to this handsome stone house. An addition in 1810 added space while retaining the Colonial ambiance of the original house which dates back to 1740. Wide-plank flooring and old panelled doors with the original brass knobs are but two of the charming details that add interest to this enchanting four bedroom, 3½ bath stone house. Outbuildings include an attractive 3 bedroom carriage house, an ice house and a beautiful stone bank barn with huge loft, six stalls and a turnout area beyond. A sparkling Anthony pool promises many relaxing hours. More acreage available. $850,000

Suzanne Patterson Center Celebrating Its Second Birthday As a Community Resource for Princeton's Senior Citizens

A look at the Suzanne Patterson Senior Citizen Center on its second birthday quickly reveals what it is not—it is not a place where people fill their days with busywork and pointless activities.

A cello and piano recital is scheduled for next Wednesday. The book club is reading Somerset Maugham stories. Art students are studying under Rutgers' Mason Gross School of Fine Arts graduate Pat Rosenblad. The daily "Lisarcize" aerobics class includes participants who take the class at a slow stretch pace as well as those vigorously pushing their limits. What started as a crafts class is now a sewing club in which members are making their own clothing under the direction of a teacher recruited from the Y.

"In other areas the same people come every day and the senior center is the focus of their lives," commented Gillian Godfrey, director of the center. "In Princeton most of the older people are very involved in the community. They're not sitting at home feeling left out. They come for the things that interest them."

Located behind Borough Hall in the old Miss Fine's gym, the center is used each day by a different group of people. A calendar and newsletter are mailed every month to about 600 people on the center's mailing list. In addition, new activities are added in response to suggestions from people who use the center. "One of the things I am keen on is that it can change at any time," added Mrs. Godfrey.

Tim Johnson, a member of the Senior Club who enjoys playing pool at the center, agrees. "Any activity they come up with, she tries to provide it for them. It's a wonderful place and it's growing."

Cavernous to Cozy. Two years ago, the old gym was a cavernous under-used space, home of the Bryn Mawr Book Sale. Princeton's Senior Club, which had been meeting at the firehouse on Chestnut Street and wanted its own space, is credited with lobbying to secure the gym for Princeton's senior citizens. The gym was a huge old magnolia shades the partitioned in half and is shared with the Art Association.

Edith Gilhooley, who plays bridge at the center's Tuesday afternoon "Game Day," was impressed by the transition. "The first time the Senior Club met in the gym they looked like a postage stamp on a huge package. Gillian has done wonders with it."

The center, which has wheelchair access from the parking lot behind Borough Hall, is still a large open space with only an office and conference room/kitchen partitioned from the main area. Furniture groupings and plants divide the center for various uses. Under the 15-foot windows a space filled with plants separates the entrance from a living room area.

"In the beginning I would offer to plant sit for people going on holiday," said Mrs. Godfrey. "Plants do very well here and nobody would take them back."

In the living room space, bookshelves are crammed with hardcover books, comfortable couches and easy chairs are grouped for conversation, and senior citizens. The gym was a huge old magnolia shades the towering windows along one wall. Large circular tables for games or other activities fill part of the center, and long tables on the periphery of the room are filled with pamphlets and other written materials describing government services and various events of particular interest to senior citizens.

The back wall displays interesting still life sketches and paintings and works in progress from the Art Club. Also adding color and design to the space are huge batiks by Mrs. Godfrey and several oversize works by her son, also a skillful artist.

A Garden for Summer. In the summertime the focus shifts outside to the garden along the south wall of the center. An ambitious garden of flowering annuals, grown from seed, brings visitors outside to see its progress and to assist Mrs. Godfrey as she tends the plants.

"I can get new members for her by telling people what's going on here," agreed Mrs. Craig.

older, have very little opportunity to make decisions in their lives."

Mrs. Godfrey has contacted people directly who might be interested in using the center. "Sometimes someone from out of town will call me, worried about an aging parent who is not getting out. I go out and visit people at home or I phone or write to invite someone to come for the first time."

"She's the kind that can do a lot for people without being fussy about it," commented Mrs. Gilhooley. "In a subtle way she knows how to help people."

Maintaining contact is an important part of the center. "I try to keep in touch with people. If they don't arrive, I phone up," says Mrs. Godfrey, who often visits center regulars in the hospital, helping to maintain a connection to the community.

Government Programs Aide, Evelyn Craig, an outreach worker with the Mercer County Office on Aging, is at the center every day from 9 to 10 a.m. and 12 to 1 p.m. She can offer information and assistance on the myriad of government programs available to seniors including reduced fares, real estate tax deductions, nutrition sites, recreation programs, and home energy assistance heating and cooling programs.

When she is not at the center she is visiting clients at home or visiting the nutrition site at Mt. Pisgah AME Church, 170 Witherspoon Street.

She is currently trying to get the word out about a new program which offers $100 toward the purchase of a hearing aid to seniors eligible for the pharmaceutical assistance program. "On the whole we hit a different group of people," commented Mrs. Godfrey, who feels that the roles of Mrs. Craig and the center complement each other.

"I can get new members for her by telling people what's going on here," agreed Mrs. Craig.

"Jambalaya" Summer For McCarter Theater

McCarter Theatre is calling its first regular summer season "Jambalaya!" because of its southern accent.

Jambalaya is a regional dish of rice cooked with ham, chicken, sausage, seafood, tomatoes and seasonings, but according to the dictionary the word also means "mixiture of diverse elements" or potpourri. The McCarter summer season, which will begin June 20 and end July 25, is just that. It includes two plays in repertory, along with popular and jazz musicians, and a troupe of Chinese acrobats.

To create the small-town southern ambience and enhance the summer leisure time enjoyment, McCarter will sell boxed picnic suppers by Main Street of Kingston under a tent on the front lawn before performances. Strolling minstrels and mint juleps are also promised. For those who don't like picnics per se, the upstairs wine bar will be turned into a bistro. On some nights there will be dancing in the tent after the performance, according to McCarter Artistic Director Nagle Jackson, who outlined the summer season at a press conference last week.

Inside the theater, the balcony and box seats will be closed off with something resembling a tent to create a more intimate space. Instead of 1,200 seats, there will be 495, according to Mr. Jackson.

The season will begin with an appearance by New Age pianist George Winston, Monday, June 20, at 8. Mr. Winston's piano playing expresses a personal appreciation of nature and the universe. He is regarded as one of the most influential figures in contemporary music and his albums Autumn, Winter Into Spring, and December are very popular.

Mr. Winston will contribute part of his earnings from the concert to SHARE — Self Help and Resource Exchange — a group dedicated to helping the hungry help themselves and to channel food to those who need it. Contributions of canned food will be accepted at the concert.

Family Entertainment. Michael Feinstein, a new star on the national cabaret circuit, will be at McCarter Friday, Ju-

Ballet Auditions

Open Auditions for Princeton Ballet II, the pre-professional division of The Princeton Ballet, will be held on Sunday, June 5, at the studios at 262 Alexander Street.

The Junior Division, ages 12 to 14, will audition at 1; the senior division, ages 15 and up, at 3 p.m. The audition will be in the form of classes taught by Trinette Singleton, former principal dancer with the Joffrey Ballet.

Girls and women should wear black leotard and pink tights; Senior division will need pointe shoes. Men and boys should wear black tights and white T-shirt.

Princeton Ballet II, a company of approximately 40 dancers, meets every Sunday from September through May for classes and rehearsals conducted by Diane Orio, ballet mistress of both the professional and pre-professional companies. The company participates in the annual production of The Nutcracker, has its own repertoire, and produces an annual spring concert at Kelsey Theatre on the Mercer County Community College campus.

There is a $10 audition fee. Advance registration for the audition is suggested. Call 921-7758 for application and further information.

ly 8, at 8 to play and sing the tunes of Gershwin, Berlin and Kern. Family entertainment in the form of the Chinese Golden Dragon Acrobats and Magicians is next, with performances Monday, July 11, at 11 and 7. This group does handstands from tall stacks of precariously balanced chairs — feats of balance, juggling and tumbling laced with magic, Kung Fu, and traditional dance.

McCarter will present two plays during July, both with a southern accent. Beth Henly's comedy Miss Firecracker Contest will open Wednesday, July 13, and play through that Sunday and again July 30 and 31. Miss Henly is the author of Crimes of the Heart and known for her whimsical writing and quirky characters. Robert Lanchester, McCarter associate director who is also producing the jambalaya season, will direct this play, which is described as Ms. Henly's funniest and most outgoing.

Before the next play opens, Ed Polcer and the Condon Gang will play jazz music characteristic of St. Louis, Chicago and New Orleans Monday, July 18, at 8. A 1958 graduate of Princeton University, Mr. Polcer has made several Carnegie Hall appearances and toured with Benny Goodman's sextet.

A new comedy with rousing traditional gospel music, Smoke on the Mountain, by Constance Ray, will premiere July 20. Set in North Carolina, the play follows the fortunes of a gospel singing family on tour. Family relationships and confrontations with the devil are explored through songs and "witnessing" at a Saturday night social in June in the 1930s. Gently satirical social commentary, according to Mr. Jackson, Smoke on the Mountain celebrates poor people who have nothing in the material sense but are rich in song and tradition.

Upcoming Actors. Smoke on the Mountain will be directed by Allen Bailey, a former directing intern at McCarter, and the actors for this play and The Miss Firecracker Contest will be "talented new young professionals," Mr. Jackson says. The two plays will tour as part of the New Jersey Theatre Group, offering free performances at Liberty State Park and in Camden.

The final performers in this July jambalaya are Hank Crawford, alto saxophonist, and organist Jimmy McGriff performing "urban blues" Monday, July 25. Mr. McGriff started playing the club circuit in 1963, while Mr. Crawford's big break came in 1958 when Ray Charles passed through Nashville and offered him the baritone chair in his band.

McCarter will be dark in August, resting for the 1988-89 season.

'Child's Play' to Perform Work by Area Students

The original writing of two area elementary school children and a middle school student will be incorporated in a performance by the Child's Play Touring Theatre this Saturday at McCarter Theatre. There will be a public performance at 1 on Saturday, followed by two performances for school groups on Monday.

Believing that there is no greater creativity than the creativity of a child, Child's Play Touring Theatre performs stories and poems written by children. Last February, knowing that it was booked for a performance here, Child's Play and McCarter collaborated in sponsoring a contest to solicit original material from young writers in the theatre's audience area. Teachers and parents were urged to organize and stimulate the creative talents of children in their charge.

By March 1, some 450 stories and plays had been submitted. From them five were chosen to be performed by the Child's Play Company. Of these five, three are from the immediate Princeton area.

The youngest writer is Gwyneth Connell, the 9-year-old daughter of Jennifer D. Connell of Dutch Neck Road, East Windsor, and a fourth grader at Chapin School. Gwyneth's poem The Sea Foams Up, was written as an assignment to visualize water and describe it for a reading and language arts class with Deborah Doyle of the Chapin School faculty. According to Ms. Doyle, the poem is about children playing at the edge of the water and the loneliness of the sea after they depart.

The poem of another Chapin student, Tara Shingle, was also selected. Tara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shingle, 54 Fairfield Drive, Kingston, and she is in the fifth grade at Chapin. She is about to have her 11th birthday and "writes poetry for relaxation," according to Ms. Doyle. The winning selection, My Imagination, is about all the things she could be when she grows up — from baseball player to pirate.

My Imagination was not written for a class assignment, but like The Sea Foams Up, it was printed in the school publication, Chapin Chatterings.

Virgene Zumbrunn, daughter of John and Karen Zumbrunn, 154 Balcort Drive, learned about the contest from a notice in the newspaper. On her own, she submitted a story entitled The King's Birthday, and on her 13th birthday, May 1, learned that it had been chosen for performance. "It was like a birthday present," Virgene says, adding that she was very surprised.

The King's Birthday tells of the inability of a king's four sons to decide what to give their father for his birthday. Finally they settle on something that will help him remember them — a photograph of all four sons. Virgene has always enjoyed writing, according to her mother, and has had pieces published in the Christian Science Monitor and the "Fun Times" section of the Trenton Times.

According to Lawrence Capo, administrative director at McCarter, who organized the contest with Child's Play, the touring theater reports that of all the areas from which it has solicited original written work from children, the material received in this contest was of particularly high caliber. Another Princeton area resident, Sarah Stevens, age 11 of Ringoes, who is also a fifth grader at Chapin, was cited for honorable mention for her poem, Wildflowers and Weeds.

Chapin School is very excited about having so many winners, and is sponsoring a bus trip to take the entire middle school, some 90 children in all, to see one of the Monday performances. Meanwhile, Gwyneth, Tara, and Virgene will be honored at the performance on Saturday along with Jodi Innerfeld of Hillsboro Middle School and Joshua Mazess of Rolling Hills School.

They, like us, will be curious to see how Child's Play turns their poems and story into a theater piece. Tickets are $7 and are available at the McCarter box office, 683-8000.

Staged Reading Friday Of Contemporary Comedy

The Plays Committee of the Arts Council will present a staged reading of The Temptation of Maddie Graham by Phyllis Purcell on Friday at 8:30 in the second-floor theatre of the Arts Council building.

The cast includes Sylvia Fontyn-Elvin, Carol Kehoe, Esther Jenkins, and Richard Swain. The play is a contemporary comedy about an out-of-work actress whose small New York apartment is invaded by her sister from the Midwest and a young, very eager playwright. In comic fantasy sequences, the audience gets to meet some of the eccentric characters who people her life. Maddie struggles with the "temptation" of the play's title up to its magical conclusion.

The Temptation of Maddie Graham was given a reading by The Women's Project at the Apple Corps Theatre in New York. The playwright is a recipient of fellowships from both the New Jersey and Pennsylvania State Councils for the Arts. Her work is included in a volume of American Place Theatre plays edited by Julia Miles. The staged reading in the Arts Council series will be directed by Vicki Liberatori.

Admission at the door is $2.50 and $1.50 for students and senior citizens.

The Plays Committee of the Arts Council was organized by June Cawley and was inaugurated by a reading of The Runner Stumbles in February. Sallie Goodman, theatre advisor for the Arts Council, is a consultant to the group. The Plays Committee would like to hear from actors, directors, playwrights and technicians.

Call the Arts Council office at 924-8777, Tuesday through Friday, 10 to 6.

Teenagers' Issues Focus Of Play at George Street

George Street Playhouse's Theater for Young Audiences will present Hotline as the final selection of the 1987-1988 season. Hotline will run on Stage II through Monday and then tour through May 22.

The play explores social issues that concern teenagers of today, such as abortion, drugs, AIDS and suicide. These topics are discussed through a phone counseling program, set up by four students and a teacher who learn to help themselves while helping others.

Director and co-author of Hotline is GSP's acting artistic director, Maureen Heffernan.

Kronos Quartet Leads Its Audience On a Journey into the Avant Garde

Something is very unusual about the Kronos Quartet. From the first sight of the stage, with its beach setting backdrop, to the last notes of their signature rendition of Jimi Hendrix, one senses that this string quartet has not evolved from the elegant courts and society drawing rooms where Mendelssohn and Schubert were first heard. It has been said that the Kronos Quartet has "taken the starch out of chamber music"; it is unclear if chamber music ever was over-starched, but these four innovative players have certainly stretched chamber music to new parameters and have provided an accessible route for audiences to experience some of our more avant-garde composers.

The Kronos Quartet brought its unconventional style to Richardson Auditorium on Thursday night to a healthy crowd of both the curious and the cult. The ensemble presented a musical journey ranging from Australia to Hungary, from jazz to Woodstock and captivated its audience on each leg of the trip.

Peter Sculthorpe's String Quartet No. 8, composed in 1969, opened the program. Constructed of three con dolore (with grief) movements bracketing two segments of contrasting character, this piece explores a wide range of violin technique, including col legno (playing with the back of the bow rather than the hair), pizzicato and a variety of playing on and off the strings.

Tango Rhythms. Astor Piazzolla, whose Four, for Tango mood of grief with lush vibrato, set against the montage of the upper strings.

The quartet then returned to early America with a string quartet written by Ben Johnston, which is based on the tune Amazing Grace. The piece begins somewhat traditionally, with first violinist David Harrington stating the theme. A subsequent metamorphosis in meter and melody takes Amazing Grace on a whirlwind tour of contemporary compositional techniques. The finely-tuned ensemble work of Kronos kept the tune floating from instrument to instrument, constantly provoking the audience to wonder where Grace would turn up next.

White Man Sleeps is an example of the repertoire for which Kronos has become famous. Originally composed in 1982 by Kevin Volans for two harpsichords, viola da gamba and percussion, this work draws heavily on subtly changing, pulsating rhythms of African origin. Featured in the string quartet arrangement was violinist Hank Dutt, who until this point had provided able support playing but had not had the chance to shine on his own.

Of the three jazz interpretations offered by the quartet, the most familiar was probably Thelonious Monk's Round Midnight. This work, as well as Ornette Coleman's Lonely Woman and Bill Evans' RE: Person I Knew, relied heavily on the expert playing of Mr. Harrington. The Evans work was quiet, balancing the ferociousity of the two previous jazz pieces.

Tango Rhythms. Astor Piazzolla, whose Four, for Tango mood of grief with lush vibrato, set against the montage of the upper strings.

The quartet then returned to early America with a string

Special Concert Planned By American Boychoir

The American Boychoir and the American Symphony Orchestra will present "A Concert for Life" at Richardson Auditorium on Wednesday, June 1.

Honorary chairmen of the event are composer and conductor Leonard Bernstein and Governor Thomas H. Kean. Proceeds from the concert will benefit an international educational project, initiated by the American Boychoir School, which focuses on the strength of the human spirit when confronted with violence and intolerance.

The Boychoir and the Orchestra will perform Leonard Bernstein's Chichester Psalms sung in Hebrew. It will also perform Igor Stravinsky's Symphony of Psalms.

The third work which will be performed in the concert is I Never Saw Another Butterfly by Charles Davidson. Composed with the American Boychoir in mind, it is a musical setting of poems written between 1941 and 1944 by the children who passed through the walled city of Terezin in Czechoslovakia. Nearly all of those children died, many at Auschwitz. The music is a moving testament to the horror of the Holocaust and to the faith and optimism of young people.

As part of the American Boychoir School's project to bring the message of I Never Saw Another Butterfly to people everywhere, the concert will be followed by an audio recording of the work with the American Symphony. The recording will be funded by a portion of the concert's proceeds and a matching grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Proceeds from the concert will also establish a seed fund for filming a performance of I Never Saw Another Butterfly in Terezin. The film will be used as the core of a classroom curriculum focusing on the children's message of optimism and hope in the face of bigotry.

The evening of the concert, members of the American Boychoir School's board of trustees and the benefit committee will host pre-concert dinners for patrons throughout Princeton. Patron level seating is available for $500, $250, $100 and $50. General admission seating is $25 and $20.

For ticket reservations write: A Concert for Life, The American Boychoir School, Lambert Drive, Princeton 08540, or call 924-5858.

Concert at St. Joseph's To Benefit Martin House

Three area choirs will sing Saturday evening in the chapel of St. Joseph's Seminary, Kingston. The event is a benefit for Martin House, an inner-city ministry in Trenton.

Following a champagne and hors d'oeuvre reception in the Seminary dining room and courtyard, the concert will be held in the recently renovated chapel. The organist will be Kevin McClure, who will receive his master of music degree from Westminster Choir College that day.

The American Boychoir, directed by Robert Palmer, will open the program with several sacred choral works. The Princeton University Gospel Ensemble under the direction of Bernadine Bowman, a junior at Princeton, will sing hymns, spirituals and songs of the black churches in America. The third choir will be the El Bethel Choir of Trenton, directed by Betty Young.

Sister Mamie Jenkins, R.S.C.J., a teacher at Stuart Country Day School, will lead the choirs and audience in Amazing Grace to conclude the program. There will be a reception featuring coffee and homemade desserts.

The evening represents the sharing of suburban and urban resources for the residents of the Wilbur section of Trenton who live near Martin House. Proceeds of the concert will go to the Martin House Learning Center, which is directed by Sister Lorette Piper, R.S.C.J. The center offers tutoring and a high school equivalency program in conjunction with Mercer County Community College. It also offers a nursery school for working mothers at $5 a month, and book discussion groups.

Among the tutors who give an hour a week are Princeton University undergraduates, students from Stuart School, and members of Trinity Church, St. Paul's Church and the Aquinas Institute. Martin House for 20 years has also offered residents help in rebuilding abandoned homes, gaining job skills and running a clothing store and community youth programs.

Those interested in attending the concert and supporting the work of Martin House may call Sally Branom, 924-4082, Lesley Lukowski, 924-5860, or Beth Healey, 921-1595. A donation of $25 per person is encouraged. Area firms are donating the refreshments and the choirs are donating their performances so that all proceeds will go to Martin House.

Watercolor Painting
To Be Demonstrated

Watercolorist Linda Lombardi, one of two artists admitted to the New Jersey Watercolor Society this year, will give a free watercolor demonstration on Saturday at the Arts Council of Princeton, 102 Witherpoon Street.

Winner of the Sheffield Art Leagues' Award for Excellence for four consecutive years, Ms. Lombardi has also received, among others, the Irving and Frances Phillips Award.

This event is the last in a series of seven presentations sponsored by the Princeton Chapter of the National League of American Pen Women. The next series will begin in October.

59 American Landscapes
On View at N.J. Museum

The transition from the idealism of the Hudson River School of landscape painting to contemporary abstraction is chronicled by the New Jersey State Museum's major fine art exhibition, "After Eden: American Landscape, 1875-1925," opening May 21 and continuing to September 4 in the Museum's main gallery.

Featuring 59 works by many of the nation's most important painters, this uniquely American exhibition explores the manner in which artists re-interpreted landscape painting in the post-Civil War era, as American isolation ended and contemporary European innovation in art was discovered.

Painters represented in the summer exhibition include Winslow Homer, Thomas Eakins, Asher B. Durand, Albert Ryder, Arthur Dove, Charles Burchfield, Charles Demuth and William Merritt Chase.

Exhibits

Princeton Gallery of Fine Art, 8 Chambers Street, will present a major exhibition of sculpture and works on paper by Arman. The exhibition, which will begin May 21 and run through June 25, is based on the theme of musical instruments, and features works of art whose forms are derived from guitars, cellos and other instruments.

Arman, born Armand Pierre Fernandez, is considered one of the most important French artists working today, according to the Gallery. He became a United States citizen in 1973, and divides his time between his homes and studios in New York City and southern France. Some of his more recent exhibitions include one-person shows at The Seibu Museum of Art, Tokyo; FIAC in Paris; and a 15-year retrospective at Galerie Reckermann in Cologne. His works are in most major museums, including the Guggenheim, Hirshhorn and Museum of Modern Art.

"The Gothic Image," an exhibition of prints by John Taylor Arms, is on display in the Milberg Gallery for the Graphic Arts, Princeton University Library. The exhibition includes Arms' Gothic etchings from his French and Italian series of great cathedrals, his gargoyle series, and many other fine prints by this eminent copper engraver.

Arms, trained as an architect, combined technical skill and a passion for Gothic architecture to produce detailed and interpretive realistic prints. He was a member of Princeton's Class of 1909.

The exhibition is the senior thesis project of Paige Roberts, and will be on display through June 15. The Milberg Gallery is open to the public from 9 to 5 weekdays and 2 to 5 Saturdays and Sundays.

The Hopewell Frame Shop Gallery will exhibit a collection of new paintings by Janet Purcell Pigott through July 2. The work ranges from sailboats to a pair of swans and their young, to buckets of spring flowers blooming on a Boston street corner.

The gallery is open Tuesdays through Fridays, from 9 to 5, and on Saturdays from 9 to 1.

An exhibition of women's antique fashion accessories is on display at the Cranbury Museum weekends through the end of June. The museum is located at 4 Park Place. Exhibition hours are from 1 to 4 p.m., and admission is free.

center. But Mrs. Gilhooley, who will be 90 this year, commented that there is always someone willing to offer a ride home, although she prefers to walk to her Palmer Square apartment for the exercise.

The center provides different things for different people. "I enjoy going up there," said Mary Smith, who is a member of the sewing club and attends Senior Club events. "If I have a problem I can go up there to talk about it." Through the center she received assistance in joining the home energy program for senior citizens.

Every Friday, Mrs. Godfrey borrows an American Association for Mental Health van and offers a shopping trip to Princeton Shopping Center. This provides an opportunity for some of the more infirm seniors to go to the grocery store and have help with their packages. On Friday afternoons, she organizes a "mini-trip" which is especially enjoyed by those who have trouble getting out on their own. Destinations have included the Farmers' Market, Lambertville, and, coming up, Duke Gardens.

Another regular feature at the center is the County-funded paralegal service, available every Tuesday afternoon. Peg Burger provides free legal assistance, makes referrals, and handles civil matters including housing, public benefits, consumer matters and family problems.

The regular schedule of events is supplemented with special programs. The Senior Club is sponsoring a dinner-dance at the center on May 20. A cello and piano recital is scheduled, with a program including works by Vivaldi and Saint Saens at 2 p.m. next Wednesday. While the dinner dance is for club members and guests, the recital and most other events are open to anyone at no charge.

The Suzanne Patterson Center is worth a visit. "I don't stop people coming in who aren't senior citizens. I think it is very helpful to have a mixture of ages. It brings in a more lively atmosphere," said Mrs. Godfrey. "We don't card anyone."

Many Activities Planned For 9th Pennington Day

Pennington will hold its ninth annual Pennington Day this Saturday. The community festival and street fair celebrating life in the Hopewell Valley will offer a myriad of activities, entertainment, food and prizes.

This year's co-chairmen are Maureen Conley and Jo Allsopp. Proceeds from Pennington Day will go to the newly established Pennington Day Community Fund, a "rainy day" fund for the benefit of organizations or families in the Pennington area with special needs.

Festivities will begin with the Friday Night Dance. The Friday 13th event is called "Triskaidekaphobia" (fear of the number 13), but dance-goers need not fear having a good time. The band "The Trend," will return with their unique brand of classic rock 'n' roll.

The dance will be held at the West Trenton Ballroom, 40 West Upper Ferry Road in West Trenton from 8 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Tickets are $15 per person in advance and $18 at the door. The ticket price includes beer on tap and munchies. One must be 21 or over to attend. For additional information, call 737-3389.

Pennington Day itself will get off to a running start with the 12th-annual Run for Fun. Registration will begin at 8 a.m. in front of the Pennington Professional Center on South Main Street. The one-mile road race will get under way at 9 a.m., followed by the five-mile race at 9:30. Runners will follow a course through Pennington Borough and scenic areas of surrounding Hopewell Township.

Registration for the one-mile run is $5, and the fee for the five-mile run is $7. The male and female winners of each race will be awarded gift certificates, and all race finishers will receive refreshing Froz-Fruit. Call 737-2368 for further information about the Run for Fun.

The Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament will also begin at 9 a.m. at the Pennington Prep School tennis courts on West Delaware Avenue and the Timberlane Junior School courts off Timberlane Drive. This event is for tennis players of all abilities, and each mixed doubles team must have a combined age of 60 years or more.

Other events include a Bake-Off, with a sale of the tempting entries at 11 a.m., and the "Dog Days of Pennington" Dog Show. Hopewell Valley crafters will present their wares, and the Quilt Show will have old and new handmade quilts on display, plus quilting demonstrations. A "Star Challenge" Quilt will be awarded at the end of the day.

Queenstown Gallery on South Main Street will be the site of a new art festival featuring the works of several Hopewell Valley artists. The art festival will also mark the first sale of Hopewell Valley Notecards, pen-and-ink drawings of area scenes by five of the artists. The student art and photo show will showcase the artistic talents of the younger members of the community, and future builders will use their imaginations and skills in the "Legos Across the USA" contest.

The Game Gallery from 10 to 4 will test the skills of children of all ages in the dunk tank, sponge toss, fish pond and other games. The afternoon will come to a rousing close with the Teen Street Party from 3 to 5 featuring the bands "STF" and "Banned."

Saturday Night Supper in the Pennington School dining hall,

Other features of Pennington Day include the Photo Fantasy Booth (come and have your picture taken with some very special surprise guests), and a Treasure Chest of Dining Prizes including a lobster banquet, lunches and brunches.

The Open Air Eatery will offer food for every taste and for every time of day, from doughnuts and coffee through hot dogs, hamburgers, pizza and seafood, to cakes and candies. Entertainment will go on all day in two different locations.

Special performances by the June Opera Festival of New Jersey and the Pennington Players are scheduled, as well as a folk singer and a magician and karate, Jazzercise and dance presentations. Hayrides and pony rides will also be available.

If You've Lost The Tax Deduction For Your Loan Interest, Here's The Smart Way To Get It Back.

Apply By May 31, 1988
And Application Fee And
Closing Costs Are Waived.

AT NEW JERSEY NATIONAL BANK

Vivian Shapiro to Speak

"The Traditional Needs of Children and the Changing Modern Family" is the topic to be addressed by Vivian B. Shapiro in a lecture offered by Family Service Princeton during its 90th anniversary celebration. The lecture will take place Thursday at 7:30 in the Woodrow Wilson School Auditorium.

Mrs. Shapiro, recently associate professor of social work at the University of Michigan, is an authority on infant mental health and parent-infant relationships. The wife of Princeton University President Harold Shapiro, she is the author or co-author of 32 articles and papers and has taught in both the School of Social Work and the Medical School at the University of Michigan.

Bit by bit you're losing your deduction for the interest on your monthly loans and bill payments. You see, interest on car loans, charge cards and anything else the IRS considers "personal interest" is only 40% deductible for 1988. And by 1991, they won't be deductible at all.

But there are ways to hold on to your deduction. EquiPower® and Fixed Rate Home Equity loans from New Jersey National. Unlike personal loans, they may help you keep 100% of your valuable tax deduction.

However, the tax advantage isn't the only reason to open a secured loan or line of credit with New Jersey National. Our knowledgeable staff of professionals can explain other advantages outlined below and help you determine which New Jersey National loan is the smartest way for you to borrow money.

COMPETITIVE RATE With both New Jersey National loans you'll reduce your monthly payment by restructuring your debt. Choose EquiPower with a variable rate. Or Fixed Rate Home Equity which gives you a guaranteed rate so you'll know right now what your monthly payments will be. You can also choose from several repayment methods, including extended payment terms with the Fixed Rate Home Equity loan.

FLEXIBLE AMOUNTS With EquiPower and Fixed Rate Home Equity, you can borrow from $5,000 to $120,000 or more.

APPLY ONCE If you need money now or you're just planning for the future, you'll appreciate the convenience of an EquiPower Revolving Line of Credit. You pay interest only on what you've borrowed. And as you pay back the money, it becomes available again. You never have to apply for another loan. When you need money, simply write yourself a check, use your credit card or access MAC, their 24-hour banking service. EquiPower can also be used as overdraft protection for your New Jersey National checking account. And gives you a rebate of 1% on credit card purchases.

FEES WAIVED Apply for your EquiPower or Fixed Rate Home Equity loan by May 31, and you won't have to pay application fees or closing costs.

APPLY TODAY To find out more about a New Jersey National Loan, or to apply, call 1-800-542-LOAN. Or stop by your nearest New Jersey National office. It's smart not to lose interest on your loans.

Offer good through May 31, 1988. Check with your tax advisor about specific eligibility for interest deductibility. Closing costs waiver does not include the cost of title insurance which is required on loans over $100,000.

IT'S NEW To Us

Gifts of Taste & Quality
For the Home and Office

"1001 Elegant Gifts" is the slogan of Golden Triangle in Princeton Forrestal Village, and there is indeed an intriguing array of gift items for the home and office at this new shop.

"We are a new generation of Triangle Art & Repro Centers," explained manager and buyer Carolyn Mule (pronounced Mulay). "This is the 11th Triangle store, but the first Golden Triangle. It's a new concept — a place to find special items for the home and office and also where special attention is paid."

The shop, which opened last November, carries a wide variety of items from fine pens, leather goods and desk sets, to crystal and Boehm porcelain, as well as a full range of office and art supplies and repro services.

Miss Mule, formerly a buyer for B. Altman & Co. in New York, notes that Golden Triangle was originally planned as a repro center only. Niece and daughter of the two owners, Joseph Teti and Kathleen Mule, she says she "looked forward to working for the family business, and when my uncle and I got together, we decided to add merchandise.

"GOLDEN" GIFTS: A variety of gifts for the home and office, as well as full repro services, are available at Golden Triangle in Princeton Forrestal Village. "Service is very important here," notes manager Carolyn Mule. "Our sales people are really sales specialists who are very knowledgeable about our products."

It's very challenging and exciting to put the new concept together.

"I especially like the buying part of the job, the selection of the merchandise," she continues. "When I buy, I'm not buying for myself, I'm buying for the customers. Style and quality are important, and also, I buy a broad assortment but not deep. There are not a lot of duplicates.

"We are really excited to be at Forrestal," she adds. "We like the idea of Forrestal. It's a very nice place to shop in, and we've been pleased with the customer response. We've really done a phenomenal business in fountain pens, and we've also done well with brief cases."

Pens from Around the World. The shop carries an outstanding selection of fine fountain pens, as well as ball points.

"We have an international pen department," Miss Mule remarks, "with Mont Blanc, Waterman and Pelikan and many more fine pens. Fountain pens have become very popular in the last three or four years. There's a whole generation that has never even used a fountain pen. They are much easier now, with cartridges, and you do write better with one."

Leather goods, including brief and attache cases, men's wallets, leather organizers, passport cases and legal pads are also in full supply. "We carry Bally of Switzerland brief and attache cases and wallets," she notes, "and it is exclusive to us in central New Jersey. Of course, we have other fine brands as well."

Golden Triangle has a tremendous assortment of desk sets, including brass, leather, suede and exotic woods. "These are very popular," says Miss Mule, "and they make an especially nice gift when someone is promoted."

"We are also the largest gallery for Boehm porcelain in central New Jersey," she continues. "We have really beautiful pieces. We also carry crystal, including lead crystal from Poland, at excellent prices. Daum crystal, noted for its selection of cars, is available too, as is the Austrian cut crystal zoo." Shoppers will also find a very nice collection of picture frames in wood, silver and fossilized stone, as well as attractive laminated wood jewelry-music boxes.

Custom Framing. Custom framing is another of the shop's services, and there is also a large selection of art supplies, including drawing paper, pads, water colors, oil paints, acrylics, easels and poster boards.

Office supplies, from rubber bands and paper clips to stainless steel scissors in several colors, as well as stationery and legal pads are also in full supply.

Other items include small "Merlin's View" kaleidoscopes, an assortment of desk toys with magnets (arranging and re-arranging them into a variety of designs can be a great stress reliever), brass bookends and cardholders, crystal candlesticks and wonderful acrylic globes in small and large sizes.

"We also have full repro services," says Miss Mule, "including business cards, letterheads, etc. We can make copies of anything."

Prices run the gamut at Golden Triangle, from 30 cents for an eraser to over a thousand dollars for crystal and porcelain, with all prices in between. "We really have something for everyone," reports Miss Mule. Kaleidoscopes are $5, pens range from $1.39 up to $295 for the Mont Blanc Diplomat, lead crystal perfume bottles are $10, bowls $28, picture frames from $10 to $85, acrylic globes $24.95 and $149 and brief cases $100 to $500.

Miss Mule reminds customers that "Forrestal is having a sidewalk sale May 12 through 15. We'll be taking part and will have 50% off art supplies and 20% off all brief cases, wallets and leather organizers." With graduations and Father's day coming up, she adds that "Pens and leather goods will make very nice presents."

Special services, such as corporate gifts and special orders, are also available at Golden Triangle, as are gift certificates and gift wrapping.

Customers will enjoy both browsing and buying among Golden Triangle's special line of products. "I hope we will be successful," says Miss Mule, "and that more and more people will come in to see what we have to offer."

Hours are Monday-Friday 10 to 9, Saturday 10 to 7 and Sunday 12 to 6.

Design House of Interiors Specializes in Decorating

Does the living room need a new look? How about the den? Are you tired of the same old colors? Are the curtains and draperies a bit passe? Does the carpet show signs of wear and tear? If so, Design House of Interiors, specialists in home decorating, may be able to provide what you want for a springtime pick-me-up.

The new shop, which opened two months ago at the Ellsworth Center on the Princeton-Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction, carries an extensive selection of window treatments, including custom drapery, balloon, Roman and pleated shades, and vertical, mini- and micro-blinds, as well as a full line of carpeting, wallpaper, and a special new no-sew, iron-on technique for window treatments which is a boon to do-it-yourselfers.

"We're also the largest gallery for Boehm porcelain in central New Jersey," she continues. "We have really beautiful pieces. We also carry crystal, including lead crystal from Poland, at excellent prices. Daum crystal, noted for its selection of cars, is available too, as is the Austrian cut crystal zoo." we have our own workroom, and we do all our own work. There are not too many operations like this, that are equipped to handle different types of window treatments — curtains, balloon shades, draperies, etc. We do it all.

"Also," he adds, "according to what we hear, we have the best fabric selection and best wallpaper selection in the area. We certainly have one of the biggest selections of materials to choose from. Hundreds and hundreds of samples. There is a tremendous variety."

Making choices about redecorating is not always easy when there are so many options available, and Mrs. Lutz says people often handle it in different ways. "Some people know just what they want, while others need more advice. The design of different treatments is where my real interest is, and we'll go to people's houses to help with ideas. Color is the most important aspect in the decorating, and we like to coordinate the colors throughout the house. Of course, it's best for people to come in and see us first, so they'll know what we have."

Career Switch. A former Eastern Air Lines pilot, Mr. Lutz is very involved with his new career. "I really do enjoy this. It's creative, and I've always done things with my hands. I like making things, like the cornices," he remarks, adding, "I also enjoy the variety of the work and meeting a lot of different people. I like to have a close relationship with our clients and be able to work with the whole house — not just to do window treatments or paper or blinds, etc., but to coordinate everything. We want to help with the entire house. I really enjoy doing a little bit of everything."

Changes and trends are noticeable in any business, and Mrs. Lutz points out that the Princeton area has been acquiring a new look in its design choices. "The area is totally turning around. Princeton used sampling of fabrics, window to be so traditional. Now, you treatments and carpets, as well see everything, a big variety of as a selection of American styles. From very contemporary to country to traditional.

INTERIOR DESIGN DISCOVERIES: Everything you need to spiff up the interior of your house — from window treatments to wallpaper to carpet — is available at Design House of Interiors at the Ellsworth Center on the Princeton-Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction. "We offer quality and personalized service, as well as a special opportunity for Do-It-Yourselfers," note owners Jaymie and Doug Lutz.

"Also," she adds, "colors are changing. New colors for fall are coming in, such as violets, bayberry blue and emerald green. We're seeing a return to the Spanish Era and seeing green again and the sun-drenched colors of old Spain. It's a beautiful look, and it's for the whole house. Even the drapery hardware is being painted. This is a very interesting look."

Design House of Interiors' showroom contains a wide

Iron-on Curtains? Beautiful window treatments, from balloon shades to custom draperies, are a specialty of Design House of Interiors, and the shop can accommodate all styles, designs and motifs. In addition to the traditional sewing of draperies, balloon shades, etc., the Lutzes offer a new iron-on no-sew method called Do Fix, which was developed in Germany.

"It's only been offered in the United States for three years," explains Mrs. Lutz, "and it works very well for an under-treatment. It can be worked around or added to, and it can be used in conjunction with sewing or alone. It has a neater look, too. You don't see all the sewing lines. Instead of sewing, you iron on tape, using a commercial, high-pressure steam iron. There are about 150 different kinds of tape. They're very strong and permanent. They won't come off even with washing or dry cleaning."

Adds Mr. Lutz: "We've just been appointed distributors of Do Fix for the state of New Jersey and for a large part of New York. No one else can offer this. Our job in the northeast is to teach people how to use it. We'll be having two seminars for people in the trade, starting June 9."

Design House of Interiors is also offering customers the opportunity to try out Do Fix firsthand. Do-it-yourselfers will be in their element as they put together balloon shades or valances in the shop's workroom. "Some people are a bit skeptical at first, but if you can iron, you can make almost anything with this," says Mr. Lutz. "It takes about 45 minutes to make a lace balloon shade, and of course, we guide and instruct the customers. People have really liked the idea. It saves money, time, and you have the pleasure of saying you've done it yourself."

Prices vary at the shop depending on the type of materials chosen and the design. Carpet is anywhere from $10 to $50 a yard, with many fine carpets in the $25 range. Fabrics start at $7 a yard, and lace balloon shades are $100 and up. The lithographs start at $65.

Mr. Lutz reminds customers that "We are having a Grand Opening sale with special prices on vertical blinds, Duette pleated shades, mini blinds and Waverly fabrics."

Customers will enjoy the bright showroom with its many samples and its variety of decorating ideas. The Lutzes are looking forward to introducing customers to their special brand of service, attention and quality merchandise.

"Also," adds Mr. Lutz, "this is a family operation. Jaymie's mother Rose Nalbone, her father Carl and her sister June Lanzi are all involved in the business. We think we're a special place."

Design House of Interiors is open Monday through Saturday, 10 to 6.

Eileen B. Saums, Associate A.S.I.D., Interior Designer, speaks on Rooms Should "Say Something."

When you go to pick out furniture, you should keep in mind that to achieve really effective decorating, your rooms should have an atmosphere, a mood, a personality, a character.

Rooms can be dramatic, or romantic, or nostalgic, or cheerful, or comfortable looking, or whatever you want them to say — if you select the right furnishings.

And, you can create different feelings in different parts of your home. For instance, your living room could have one kind of feeling, while the family room could have another, the bedroom another, etc.

In this way you can have distinctive decorating, bringing not only new beauty to your home, but the feeling of comfort or happiness or whatever it is you want in particular rooms.

How do you really go about achieving this?

Well, after finding the kinds of atmosphere or personality you want various rooms to have, we can suggest certain types of furniture and specific pieces that will help you accomplish that goal. Then, there are other considerations such as the scale of furniture, the textures, the use of non-use of patterns, the over-all color contrasts, and the accessories that will be used to compliment and point up your decorations. With it all, you can have a home that has the character you want, and we are here to help you create it.

We are having a SALE on our existing furniture and accessories. Stop in while there is still a nice selection.

The Women's College Club has elected new officers and committee chairmen for the coming year. They are president, Elly deBoer; vice president, Alice Parker; recording secretary, Margaret Eldred; corresponding secretary, Evelyn Barrow; treasurer, Frances Edeburn; assistant treasurer, Peggy Anderson; and member-at-large, Jane Coda.

Committee chairmen will include Ruth Lesh, Mary Palenchar, Alaine Jass, Nancy Juge, Dolores Reed, Helen Sangster, Jane Carpenter, Jean Kjorlien, Laura Khachadurian, Susan Metcalf, Eleanor Pennington, Mickey Eggers, Josephine Ondelti, Mary Lincoln, Mary Hoffman and Marcia Powell.

Betty Irish served as chairman of the nominating committee, assisted by Gerry Bowers, Alaine Jass, Gerry Kimble and Eleanor Pennington.

Tiger Tennis Captures First Ivy Title Since 1980, Baseball Ends With Best Mark in 3 Years, Track Teams Do Well

With the record-setting Rocky Road for Baseball, Princeton University softball Coach Tom O'Connell's team idle last week in anticipation of an NCAA tournament bid, fans focused their attention on the much-improved Tiger baseball team. The batsmen began the week slowly, getting blanked by Rutgers and dropping both ends of a double-header to Dartmouth, but recovered last Sunday to sweep Harvard and wind up the season with a 21-17 (9-9 EIBL) record.

That marks Princeton's best finish since the 1985 EIBL championship season, and given the impressive slugging of several sophomores over the weekend, there is reason to believe another title might not be too far off in the future.

The Princeton men's tennis team doesn't need to look to the future. Last week it edged a tough Dartmouth squad, 5-4, to win the EITA championship for the first time since 1980. The netmen, who needed a victory in their final doubles match to get past the Big Green, ended the season 12-8 (8-1 EITA). The women's tennis team was not as successful, topping Columbia and Rutgers but falling to five-time league champion Harvard, 6-3.

Both Tiger track teams turned in outstanding performances at last weekend's Heptagonal meet at Providence, R.I. The men finished second overall to Dartmouth, while the women placed third, behind Pennsylvania and Dartmouth. The Big Green proved to be Princeton's nemesis on the lacrosse field also, banding the visiting Tiger stickmen an 11-8 defeat in a battle for the Ivy League cellar. The women's crew team, meanwhile, came in second behind Yale at the Eastern Sprints, held in Derby, Conn.

Here's an amazing sports fact ... Nobody has been able to win the U.S. Open golf tournament 2 years in a row ANYTIME in the last 36 YEARS ... The last time anybody won the U.S. Open 2 years in a row was in 1950 and 1951 when Ben Hogan did it.

Of all the teams in sports, which one has retired the most uniform numbers? ... The New York Yankees have retired the most numbers of 13 people: No. 1 — Billy Martin ... No. 3 — Babe Ruth ... The Tiger captain, lefty Steve Holland, then closed out his career in style with his sixth win in seven decisions in the second game. Catcher Kevin McGrath went 4-for-4 with two RBIs, while first baseman Bob Gralewski collected three hits in as many trips to drive in a pair. With all of the above-named hitting stars returning for at least two more seasons, the Princeton baseball team appears to have a bright future indeed.

Laxmen Improving. One would like to say that about the men's lacrosse team, too, which has shown gradual improvement this year under the tutelage of first-year coach Bill Tierney. That improvement hasn't yet translated into more Harvard at Cambridge, Mass. Kuzma went the distance in the wins, though, even against lidlifter, striking out five to perennial second-division finish his senior season with a team like Dartmouth. Last 3-5 mark. A bases-loaded triple Saturday, the host Green by Remig and DH Brandon tallied six goals in the second Montler's two-run round-period to open a 6-3 halftime tripper keyed an eight-run third lead en route to an 11-8 win.

All-Ivy attackman Rob Palumbo, the Tigers' lone bright spot this year, notched four goals, while Mark Ames added three tallies. The key blow to Princeton's hopes came in the third quarter, when defender and team captain Ed Sondey was assessed a three-minute unreleasable penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct. While Princeton played a man short, the Green scored three times to put the game out of reach. Princeton (2-11, 0-6 Ivies) will close out the season with road games at Adelphi this Wednesday and Hofstra on Saturday.

The Princeton track program gave a good account of itself at the Heps meet last weekend. Coach Larry Ellis' men, whose 90 points trailed Dartmouth by nearly 60, got winning performances from the 4x100m relay team, Vince Smith in the 100m dash and long jump, and Charles Forlidis in the high jump. The women, meanwhile, registered an important victory in the 4x400m relay.

8, to Hun in a regular-season meeting, hurt. "It was a big let-down, needless to say," said Hun coach Bill McQuade, whose team had lost only to Hamilton in 13 previous starts.

"Both teams were up for the game. They gave up one unearned run; we gave up two. After Zentmayer tied, that's what normally decides a game like this; the team that makes the fewest mistakes. We Peter Buckley greeted Murphy played well enough to win — with a line single to right and but not quite well enough." Hun stole second. He later scored on an overthrow at first base.

"That was the ball game," Hun's Carl Zentmayer went signed McQuade. Hun threatened in its half of three innings and gave up only one a home run to the last inning when Mike Ax-

Larry second baseman Dan Kramli in the first inning. He fanned five.

Hun tied it in the same inning when Danny Martz singled, stole second and came home on a sacrifice fly. Hun added two more runs in the third but visiting Lawrenceville tied the score with single runs in the third and fifth.

After Zentmayer tied, McQuade brought in veteran Pat Murphy. Larry shortstop followed with a single to short left. Crane, however, stumbled on his way to third and was thrown out.

"Instead of runners on first and third with one out and Martz at the plate there were two out," said McQuade. Martz flied out to end the game but McQuade commented, "His fly ball would have scored a run.

"A tough one to lose," summed up McQuade. "We made a couple of mistakes and it cost us."

Martz and Axelrod each had two hits to lead Hun at the plate. Murphy was charged with the loss, his second against three wins.

Earlier in the week, Murphy, Zentmayer and Nobel Ejiofor combined to pitch a no-hitter against the Katzenbach School for the Deaf, as Hun coasted to a 14-0 win. First baseman Dub Summers connected for two homers and Zentmayer had three hits for Hun. Ejiofor (2-0) got the win.

PHS Laxmen Gain Tie, Then Win in Overtime

It wasn't so much that the victory-starved Princeton High boys' lacrosse team won; it was the way it won.

At halftime Monday, the Little Tigers trailed newcomer Moravian Academy, 5-0, and were heading for their tenth loss in 11 games. First-year coach Jim Harris wanted no part of another defeat, however. "Look guys," he told his players during the break, "there's no way you want to go home after losing to this team. They're not that good."

PHS came out and scored the first goal of the second half. At the end of three periods, the Blue and White trailed, 6-3; at the end of the final period they had drawn even, 7-7. With 30-seconds left in the three-minute sudden-death overtime, Princeton's Thad Reynolds scored his third goal of the game to give the Little Tigers a stirring 8-7 win.

The Little Tigers managed

The Little Tigers managed to overcome not only Moravia had 13, five in the first period alone and eight in the first half when the home team sputtered ahead. "The referees were incredibly strict," said Harris.

One of those sidelined in the crucial final period was PHS goalie Neil Reeves, who was sent to the box after drawing his second infraction. Harris called on freshman Ryan Branen, who had never played goalie before.

Branen responded with two saves, one a great one, reported Harris. "That really pumped us up."

Another freshman, Tad Kinchla, was a standout for the Little Tigers, as he scored three goals to match Reynolds's hat trick. Bret Hoebel added a goal and two assists, sophomore Amman Pope scored one, and Grant McCune had an assist. Reeves had 11 saves.

PHS Girls Win. The PHS girls' lacrosse team won its third straight on Monday when it routed Hopewell Valley, 21-3. A longtime field hockey rival of PHS, the Bulldogs are in the process of starting a lacrosse program.

PHS scored 11 goals in the first half, ten in the second. Liz Hewson led the Little Tiger onslaught with six goals to match her previous season-high against Princeton Day School. Kristy Collins added three goals and Cindy Stovall, Anne Tevebaugh and Rebecca Savidge all scored two goals apiece. With the win, the Little Tigers improved to 8-2.

PHS Netmen Advance. The PHS boys' tennis team advanced in the four-day Mercer County Tournament which will conclude Thursday.

In its opening round, the Little Tigers defeated Hopewell Valley, 4-1. Nick Leschly defeated Hopewell's Craig Braswell, 6-1, 6-1, in the first singles and Richard Webb triumphed, 6-2, 6-2 at second singles. Dan Horowitz of PHS lost the third singles in straight sets.

The PHS first doubles of Marc Glogoff and David Williams won 6-4, 6-0, but the second doubles of Jeff Chen and Seth Socolow were extended to three sets before winning, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Other first-round winners in the tournament were Steinert over Nottingham, Lawrence over Hun, West Windsor over Ewing, Hamilton over Pennington School and Princeton Day over Peddie.

Spear Wins IH Hurdles At Bernards Track Event

Princeton High senior Rachel Spear made her appearance in the annual Bernards Invitational in Bernardsville Saturday a memorable one, when she won the girls' 400-meter intermediate hurdles in 63.8 to break her own Mercer County standard of 67.3 in the event.

The PHS girls' team will compete in the annual Mercer County Meet on Saturday at Steinert, starting at 9, and they were scheduled to host Trenton and Hamilton earlier in the week. The meeting with Trenton will be a showdown between the unbeaten Tornadoes and the unbeaten but once-tied Little Tigers. Last week, in a dual meet, the PHS girls trounced Lawrence High, 82-40, to improve to 6-0-1.

The PHS boys will face a similar schedule: the County meet at Steinert on Saturday, with the boys' competition starting at 1, and a tri-meet with Trenton and Hamilton earlier in the week on the Tornadoes' track.

In regular season competition last week, PHS defeated Lawrence, 78-52, and McCristin, 68-62.

Should Hun achieve its goal and sweep all four of its remaining games, it would end with a regular season mark of 15-1 and an overall record of 15-2. "That," agreed Faus, "would be fantastic."

Faus had expected an easier week against Saddle River Day School and Morristown Beard and he got it. Ten Hun players scored against visiting and winless (0-10) Saddle River, which is just starting its lacrosse program. Faus made extensive use of his jayvee players.

Junior middy Duncan Dixon scored his first two varsity goals of the season and added two assists. Also scoring for the first time were Mike Brenna and Ed Freedman, two more members of the Hun jayvee team which, Faus was pleased to report, is 7-0 and "still clicking along." Deke Young, who got his first goal in the victory over Morristown Beard, also scored against Saddle River.

Others joining the Hun scoring parade Saturday were sophomore George Cole (two goals) and veterans Hardy Roddy, Dale Beach, Paul Greco, Scott Gordon and Paul Welykoridko.

Against Morristown Beard, co-captain Roddy erupted for five goals to lead Hun to an easy 14-6 win. The hat-trick plus two gave Roddy 21 goals for the season. Scoring a pair of goals each were Cole, Beach and Greco, the latter adding four assists. Gordon and Young also scored for Hun, which received 10 saves from its sophomore goalie, P.J. Michaud.

PHS Nine Is Ousted From County Tourney

The seven runs the Princeton High baseball team scored against Nottingham Saturday were more than it had tallied in any previous game this season except for a 10-9 loss to Hamilton.

When the Little Tigers plated four runs in the fourth and then set the Northstars down 1-2-3 in the same inning, it marked the first time since the season's opener, noted coach Ed Beacham, that PHS had scored some runs and didn't give them right back.

It sounds as if the Little Tigers had a good game and put an end to their 11-game losing skein. It sounds as if the beleaguered Blue and White had upset fourth-seeded Nottingham and had advanced to meet the winner of the Hamilton-Hightstown game in the quarter-final round at Mercer Park.

It sounds almost too good to be true. It was. The only difference from their usual practice was that in this key contest the Little Tigers waited one inning. After scoring three more runs in the fifth inning to climb back into the game, PHS gave back four more runs to Nottingham in the bottom half of the same frame, as the home team went on to capture a 12-7 victory. Exit 13th-seeded PHS from the tourney in the only one of five scheduled games actually to be played last weekend because of wet fields. Good-bye to its last hope of salvaging something from this long season.

Little wonder then that Beacham commented this week, "I don't even know what to say at this stage of the game. The kids are embarrassed. Maybe it means you have to get embarrassed a little before you can win again."

PHS will play Hopewell Valley for the second time on Monday and was scheduled to play Notre Dame earlier this week. The game with Hightstown, which was rained out, has been rescheduled for Tuesday.

Here We Go Again. When Nottingham jumped on PHS hurler Bob Blankstein for six hits and six runs in the first, Beacham reported he said to himself, "Here we go again."

While Nottingham was adding two more runs in the second for an 8-0 lead, Northstar hurler Bill Olivero was limiting the Little Tigers to one hit over the first three innings. PHS broke through on doubles by Andy Petrone and Tom Shockley, who had two hits apiece, as did shortstop Matt Sanderson. All seven runs by PHS off Olivero were earned.

For its part, Nottingham raked Blankstein, who went the distance, for 14 hits, including three each by Mike Sabol and Pasquale DiChiara. "We hit the ball today but they hit it better than we did," summed up Beacham after the game. The win was the 12th in a row for the streaking Northstars and the 12th straight loss for PHS.

At the start of the season, Beacham had commented that he didn't want to make the absence of a home field an excuse for not winning. In the light of what has come to pass does he still feel that way?

"I don't know what to say about that," he replied. The only ones who come to see the Little Tigers on their endless road trip this season, Beacham conceded, are a couple of parents and a couple of girl friends.

"It's not like playing at home when you have 50 to 60 people come to see you ... where you feel comfortable on your own field and you have the last at bat. I don't know. Maybe in a 16-3 game it doesn't make any difference where you play."

"The only good thing about playing on the road," he quipped, "is your pitchers only have to pitch six innings. If that's the only good you can find in a season then it must be a pretty sad season."

In another game last week, PHS scored two first-inning runs against Montgomery but, typically, gave back three in the same inning to the Cougars. Although outhit by PHS, 8 to 7, Montgomery bunched its hits for three more runs in the third to outlast PHS, 7-5.

Andy Petrone had two hits and drove in a pair of runs for the Little Tigers and sophomore Danny Reed, who started on the mound for the Blue and White, also had two hits. Reed was reached for six hits and all seven Cougar runs before giving way to Sanderson, who one-hit the home team the final three innings.

The loss was Reed's first. Winning pitcher Mike D'Allegro banged out two hits, scored two runs and drove in one to record his second win against two losses.

Two More Easy Wins For PHS in Lacrosse

The Princeton High girls' lacrosse team rolled to a pair of easy victories last week. In back-to-back games, the Little Tigers defeated Columbia, 13-6, and Princeton Day School, 13-7, both for the second time this season.

PHS will host Stuart on Thursday at 4 and Montville, one of the two teams to defeat the Little Tigers this spring, on Tuesday. Both games will start at 4 at the Riverside School field.

Ahead, 7-5, at halftime over Columbia, PHS took command of the game by outscoring the visitors 6-1 in the second half. Kristy Collins paced the PHS attack with four goals and Suzanne Maman led the PHS defense with a dozen saves in the Blue and White wins that.

Silvana Nazzaro, Maria Tucker, Cricket Jacobs and Laura VandenHeuvel all tournament's third seed, are scored two goals for PHS while Anne Tevebaugh added one.

found. The seeding committee decided overall records would be used, and this put Dwight (7-1-1) ahead of PDS, which — because of a tougher schedule — was only 6-5-1 at the time the committee met.

Debbie Manno's softball squad broke a three-game losing skid last Wednesday with a 13-9 triumph over Kent Place. It was their second victory against eight losses. Three games remain on the schedule against Mt. Holly Tech this Wednesday, Trenton High on Friday and Medford Vo Tech next Wednesday, May 18.

The boys' lacrosse team was not so fortunate and dropped its 12th game in 12 tries on Saturday. Lawrenceville, one of the better teams in the State, won handily, 11-2, and could have scored many more.

Just three years ago these two teams met in Fairlawn to decide who would be the State champion. PDS won 8-6, but has not had even a winning record since, and next year will drop down to Prep B competition, and not play Lawrenceville. The Panthers moved up to Prep A in the 1970s when Bob Krueger was building the team into one of the strongest in the area.

The PDS-Dwight game was a seesaw battle with neither team able to gain more than a three-goal advantage at any time. PDS fell behind, 12-9, at half, but rallied in the second half to tie and even found the chance of winning the title this week. Itself ahead, 15-14, near the end. If all goes as expected, the visitors managed to tie the game in the closing minutes, and neither side could score again.

Sophomore Jenny Myers had an outstanding game, scoring nine of her team's 15 goals. Maureen Cahill added a pair. Elisa DeRochi faced 29 shots and made 10 saves.

Ficarro's Routs Schlott's To Remain Undefeated

The Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team last week improved its record to 5-0 in the Mercer County Women's League. The team scored the winning goal with 17 seconds to play. Myers and Realtors. Another game with Susan Lebovitz tallied three goals apiece, Cahill added a pair, and Alicia Collins had one. This week, Ficarro's will take on Dot's Girls on Thursday at 6:30 at Mercer County Park's Field 7.

It looks like Bedesem will have to play the tournament without senior starter Laura Heins, who sprained an ankle in the Dwight contest, and does not expect to be able to play again. Kit Greenberg and Ani Tilden are also out, leaving PDS with just two substitutes.

In other action, the baseball and softball teams each broke losing streaks with a victory last week. Jeff Bond's team, which had lost 10 straight, 3. Ragazzo was the winning pitcher, giving up just three runs.

PDS Girls' Lacrosse 2nd In Prep "A" Seeding

It's an old adage in the sports world that ties can come back to haunt you, and PDS girls' lacrosse coach Kim Bedesem is wishing now that her team could have avoided one last week. A tie cost the Panthers a chance to be seeded first in the Prep "A" tournament.

The Panthers met Dwight-Englewood last Wednesday in a battle of two unbeaten teams (in Prep "A" competition), and the contest ended in a 15-15 deadlock. Sadly, there is no provision in girls' lacrosse to play even a brief overtime to determine a winner. In boys' lacrosse, an overtime would have been automatic, and it's high time the girls started playing one as well.

Since this game would be used to determine who would be seeded first in the prep tournament, another way had to be
